LEGISLATION TO FOLLOW REPORT

New Haven Revelations Astonish Washington.

EFFECT MAY BE SEEN SOON

Findings of Commerce Commission on Its Probe of the New Haven Railway Are Expected to Have a Direct Effect on the Trust Legislation Now Before the Senate.

Washington, July 14.—The remarkable report of the interstate commerce commission, presented to the senate, on its investigation of the New Haven railroad, is expected to have a direct effect on the trust legislation now before the senate.

It was suggested at the Capitol that it will end all talk about leaving out of all the senate anti-trust legislation the provisions aimed at interlocking directorates.

Official Washington is deeply stirred by the contents of the report, which puts blame in no uncertain terms on the directors of the railroad, telling the story of the "reckless and profligate" financial operations of the corporation.

It seems possible that early legislation will show the effect of the report, the closing sentence of which reads:

"The revelations in this record make it essential for the welfare of the nation that the reckless and profligate financing which has blighted this railroad system be ended and until this is fully done there will be no assurance that the story of the New Haven will not be told again with the stockholders of some other railroad system as the victims."

Many senators approved heartily the theory advanced by the interstate commerce commission that directors of corporations should direct and be held liable both criminally and civilly.

CARSON PLEDGES HIS FOLLOWERS

Swears Ulster Loyalists to Oppose Home Rule.

WARNS BRITISH GOVERNMENT

Orange Demonstration at Drumbeg, Ireland, Culminates in Scene of Great Enthusiasm—Sir Edward Carson Offers Government Choice of Leaving Ulster Out of Home Rule or Fight.

Drumbeg, Ireland, July 14.—The Orangemen's demonstration here culminated in a scene of great enthusiasm around the tiny platform where Sir Edward Carson, Bible in hand, pledged the covenanters never to surrender to coercion, to remain loyal to the throne and never to waver in their support of their leaders in the fight against home rule.

Sir Edward Carson in a speech served notice on the British government that unless it is prepared to leave Ulster alone it very shortly will find the Ulstermen recognizing no government except the provisional government of Ulster. He said he has been given authority to act and if necessary that means he is to exercise his powers without regard to consequences to himself.

Sir Edward Carson offered the government the choice of giving Ulster a clean cut out of home rule or of coming to fight the Ulstermen. These, he said, are the only possible alternatives. Ulster, he concluded, is asking only justice and if it does not get it from the government it will take it for itself.

BITTERLY CONDEMNS ROAD

Commerce Commission Reports on New Haven Finances.

Washington, July 14.—"Criminal negligence" and "one of the most glaring instances of maladministration revealed in all the history of American railroad" were the terms the interstate commerce commission employed in reporting to the senate on its investigation of New Haven railroad financial affairs.

The commission's conclusions may be summed up this way:

Losses to New Haven stockholders for the acts of their directors will range from $60,000,000 to $90,000,000. Suits to recover the money should lie in some cases.

Many of the transactions, characterized violations of the law of New York, Rhode Island and Massachusetts and the federal anti-trust laws, have been reported to the authorities of the states and the federal department of justice.

All the commission's strictures were upon the management of the New Haven system under former President Mellen.

In justice to the present management the commission says it is only fair to say that Chairman Howard El Hott and Walker D. Hines, special counsel, "have co-operated with the commission and rendered it substantial assistance throughout this investigation."

CALLS REPORT POLITICAL

Former President Mellen of New Haven Road Talks.

Stockbridge, Mass., July 14.—"The report of a political tribunal made for political purposes," was the characterization made by Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven road, of the interstate commerce commission's report on its investigation of the road.

In a telephone interview Mr. Mellen said neither he nor any member of the board of directors of the road during the period covered by the report "was ever guilty of conscious negligence in any matter affecting the New Haven or the public."

DOCTOR KILLED BY PATIENT

Chicago Slayer Then Turns Pistol on Himself.

Chicago, July 14.—Dr. Harold H. Steere was shot and killed by Anton Truskowski, a former patient, who then shot himself and died within a few minutes. In Truskowski's pockets the police found receipts showing that he had paid the physician and his partner $435 since last October.

BURGLAR TRAP KILLS BOY

Victim Is Shot by Gun Fixed by Pennsylvania Merchant.

Johnstown, Pa., July 14.—Authorities here were notified of the death at Barnesboro, Pa., of Thomas Cochran, eight years old, as the result of a burglar trap. A merchant, who had been robbed recently, placed a loaded gun that when a door leading from the cellar to the store was opened the gun would enter the boy's lungs.

ELKS CONVENE AT DENVER

Governor Ammons Welcomes Visitors to Colorado.

Denver, July 14.—The golden jubilee of the grand lodge of Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks and the twenty-eighth annual reunion of the order began formally with exercises at the Municipal Auditorium. Elksdom was welcomed to the state and city by Governor Ammons and Mayor J. M. Perkins.

The increasing number of Elks arriving here failed to develop an opponent to the election of Raymond Benjamin, assistant attorney general of California, to succeed Grand Exalted Ruler Edward Leach of New York.

Sentiment favoring the selection of Seattle as the reunion city in 1915 apparently has become general.

M'REYNOLDS LIKELY TO BE NOMINATED

May Succeed Late Justice Lurton on Federal Bench.

Washington, July 14.—Attorney General James C. McReynolds probably will be appointed to the supreme court to succeed Justice Horace H. Lurton, who died at Atlantic City.

The president has not decided definitely to send the name of Mr. McReynolds to the senate.

The only man whom the president has considered with the same degree of favor as Mr. McReynolds is Secretary of War Lindley M. Garrison.

The secretary was eliminated, however, by the realization on the president's part that the Mexican situation contains too many possibilities for him to be willing to dispense with the services of his secretary of war.

Mr. Wilson is understood to be convinced that he should appoint a Democrat to the position and has given little thought to suggestions of appointing former President Taft or any other Republican.

STRIKE TIES UP LINERS

Walkout Renders Many Power Stations Idle.

Liverpool, Eng., July 14.—A strike was started among the Mersey dock employees to force recognition of the workmen's union and bring about the establishment of a joint board of workmen and employers to deal with disputes.

Although the strike was not general many of the power stations were made idle and several liners were imprisoned in the docks owing to the impossibility of opening the gates.

SLAYS FELLOW WORKMAN

Austrian Fires Two Bullets Into Victim's Body.

Madison, Wis., July 14.—After firing two bullets into the body of a fellow worker, Joe Drugnic, an Austrian laborer, was arrested on a charge of murder. The tragedy took place on the Northwestern railroad where both were employed.

BICKFORD MAY GO TO PEN

Legal Authorities Say North Dakotan Must Serve Time.

Bismarck, N. D., July 14.—Legal authorities here contend that in spite of the complete pardon granted him by the state board of pardons at the semi-annual meeting last month G. L. Bickford, former state treasurer, found guilty more than two years ago of embezzlement, will be committed to the penitentiary. It is said that the pardon cannot operate unless Bickford is really confined to prison, according to the sentence received from the trial court.

Senate Confirms Morris.

Washington, July 14.—The senate confirmed the nomination of Ira Nelson Morris of Chicago to be minister to Sweden.

CONGRESSMEN NEEDED AT HOME

Political Fences Weak and Personal Attention Demanded.

FORCED TO STAY IN CAPITAL

President Aids Men Who Are Opposed by Giving His Indorsement, but Refuses to Allow Them to Leave Congress at This Time—Williams, Ex-Minister to Greece, Bryan's Friend.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 14.—[Special.]—Many members of the house are in doubt as to whether they should remain in Washington and drag out a dreary existence in keeping a quorum while waiting for the senate to pass the trust bills or go home and look after their political interests personally. If they were home they might be able to fix up a number of things that may defeat them, but if they do go home they may be charged with neglecting government business for which they were elected.

President Wilson has made it rather plain that the duty of Democrats is to remain in Washington. He has given them his indorsement, calling them men of patriotism. This indorsement is meant to be of use in the primaries where men have opposition for renomination. At the same time the brand of patriotism is not all they want. The large majority fear that the brand may wear off or not be seen. Personal work at home will be more effective. Consequently they want an early adjournment.

Served With Bryan.

George Fred Williams, who, as minister to Greece, has caused talk in and outside of diplomatic circles, was a pronounced anti-Wilson man in the preliminary campaign of 1912, so much so that he prepared extracts from Wilson's speeches and writings to show that Wilson could not be elected. That he was given a foreign appointment was rather surprising, but not to those who remembered that Williams and Bryan entered the house together back in the Fifty-second congress and became warm friends. Williams was one of the most earnest supporters of Bryan from his first campaign and ever afterward.

Recedes on Seeds.

The senate spent several days discussing free seeds when the agricultural bill was under consideration. Finally by a roll call the free seed proposition was eliminated. But the house conferees would not accept the change. And they did not have to stand firm. Almost without question the senate receded. Free seeds will be distributed as heretofore.

Borah in Demand.

Quite a number of Republicans, candidates for re-election, have been making inquiries about campaign speakers in their districts and find that there is a great demand for Senator Borah of Idaho. As these Republicans have talked matters over they are saying that it is a pity that Borah is from such a far western state with comparatively small population. "If he were from Ohio or Indiana or any other big state there would be no question about his looming large as a presidential quantity," is a remark quite frequently heard.

"James' Indignation Meeting." Soon after the report was noted about that James Hamilton Lewis had determined to drop the "James" and hereafter be known as Hamilton he was called into the cloakroom on the Democratic side.

Big Gille James arose and, pointing to other members of the group, said, "James Hamilton Lewis, you see before you James Clarke, James O'Gorman, James Martine, James Reed, James Vardaman and James Brady, all members of the senate, while I am James by surname."

"It almost gives me the jimjams," murmured Lewis, but Gille went on: "We understand you have discarded the name 'James,' and we call you to account for it. James is an honorable name, borne by many worthy men. The best you can say of Hamilton is that he was the sire of many noted horses, but that is no reason why you should prefer that name to James or shirk your full responsibility as one of the 'jims' of this honorable body."

Lewis apologized and asserted that he only put the James in the discard once in order to accommodate the length of a card to mark a desk.

A Brave Man, But—

Congressman Levy of New York is a man of convictions who is not afraid to express them. He was the only man in the Democratic caucus who dared to rise and offer a resolution in opposition to the program of the president. He was bold enough to offer a resolution to adjourn congress the middle of this month. While nine-tenths of the members are with him, they do not so declare themselves.

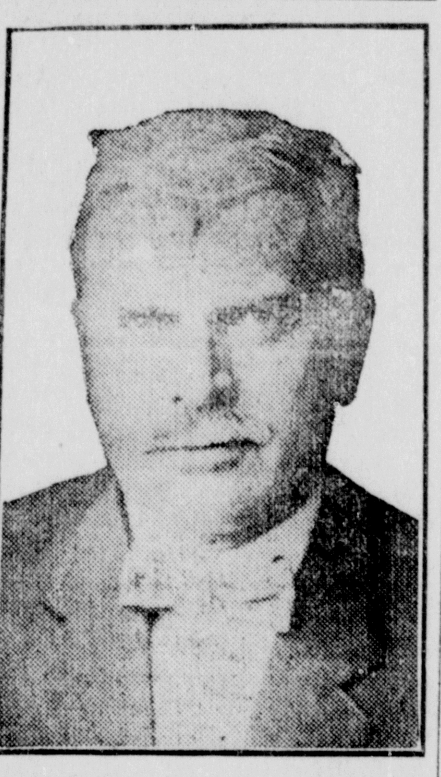

Making a Real Fight.

The dozen or more senators who are opposing the rivers and harbors bill are putting up a real fight. They mean to defeat the big bill if they can. While the friends of the measure are confident, they are at the same time somewhat disturbed at the persistency of the opponents.

Couldn't Time Them.

A—Time flies.
B—I can't. They're too quick for me.—L'Anonyme.

RAILROAD MEN SAY VOTE IS FOR STRIKE

Assert Confidently Men Will Go to Extremes.

Chicago, July 14.—The result of a vote of locomotive engineers and firemen employed by ninety-eight railroads west of Chicago to determine whether they will strike to enforce their demand for a wage increase will be made known at a meeting between the general managers' committee of the railroads and representatives of the men.

It was asserted confidently by railroad men that the employees have voted to sustain their representatives to the extent of a strike if necessary.

Warren S. Stone, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, who have appeared for the employees, are in hopes that the result of the vote will induce the general managers' committee to reconsider its refusal of the demands and to reopen negotiations with the men.

Should this hope prove groundless it was said the government might be asked to mediate under the Erdman act before a strike is ordered.

The total mileage of the roads involved is 140,000 and includes practically all lines in the United States west of Chicago, including the Illinois Central and all lines in Canada west of Fort William except the Grand Trunk Pacific. The number of engineers and firemen involved is about 55,000 and present annual wage is about $67,750,000.

BRIDE HURT WHEN TANGO WRECKS HALL.

Joliet, Ill., July 14.—Two hundred dancers treading the tango and hesitation at a bridal dance overtaxed the floor + beams of a hall and caused + them to collapse. The bride, + Mrs. Carl Merz, in whose + honor the dance was held, was + injured seriously and eight of + the guests were hurt.

LONGSHOREMEN MAY STRIKE

Unions on Pacific Coast Want Uniform Wage Scale.

Portland, Ore., July 14.—Upon the result of a referendum vote cast by forty-five unions along the Pacific coast from Juneau to San Diego, relative to action for a uniform wage scale, depends largely whether a general strike of longshoremen is to be called. The count was begun here by the executive committee.

The result will be sent to Milwaukee, where the International Longshoremen's convention is now in session.

VICE DISTRICT MUST GO

Fond du Lac Sheriff Serves Notice on Owners.

Fond du Lac, Wis., July 14.—Pursuant to instructions from District Attorney Downs, Sheriff Pick served notice on every house in the segregated district that it must close by Aug. 1. The owners verbally informed the sheriff they would obey.

31,760 RAT TRAPS TO FIGHT PLAGUE.

New Orleans, July 14.—Bubonic plague eradication work here will be facilitated by the use of 31,760 rat traps, according to announcement by health authorities. The entire water front will be rat proofed.

CARBAJAL READY TO ASSUME REINS

FOUR COMPANIES INDICTED

Roads and Coal Corporation Face Fines Exceeding $1,000,000.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 14.—Indictments were filed in the United States district court at Rochester against the Pennsylvania railroad, the Northern Central railroad, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Coal company.

All the indictments relate to transactions in connection with the mining of anthracite coal in the Pennsylvania fields and transportation to Buffalo and vicinity and allege unfair advantages by the railroads over other shippers.

The four companies are liable to fines of more than a million dollars if convictions are had.

GIRL ROBBED ON STREET

Man Dashes From Acreway and Grabs Satchel With $8,000.

St. Louis, July 14.—Miss Esther Cohen, cashier at her father's wholesale grocery, was robbed of a satchel said to contain $8,000 in checks and cash on the street here.

Miss Cohen was on the way to a bank. A man ran out of an acreway, snatched the satchel and disappeared.

MANUFACTURERS RAP MOVIES

Also Deplores Loud Clothing Worn by Working Girls.

Milwaukee, July 14.—The Wisconsin vice commission heard employers of girl labor at a session here.

Herman Schwartz, representing a shirt manufacturing company, believed moving picture shows and conspicuous dressing are among the greatest agencies of evil influencing the morality of working girls.

Nathaniel Stone, representing a large department store, believed that palm gardens and dance halls are all right when properly conducted.

Oscar Greenwald, another department store representative, said that department store girls are the most moral of any class of working girls.

Huerta Will Resign Mexican Presidency Wednesday.

STARTLING RUMORS AFLOAT

Report in Circulation at Vera Cruz That President Huerta Has Been Assassinated by Federal Officers on the Streets of Mexico City Lacks Confirmation.

Washington, July 14.—Strong rumors, absolutely unverified, at official headquarters, were in circulation here that General Huerta was assassinated by federal officers on the streets of Mexico City.

Washington, July 14.—General Huerta will resign as provisional president of Mexico Wednesday.

This was the report to Washington of the Brazilian minister to Mexico, who added that Francisco Carbajal, newly appointed minister of foreign affairs, is ready to assume the reins.

Minister Suarez of Chile, one of the mediators, anticipating the retirement of Huerta, sought in an informal talk with Secretary Bryan to learn what the attitude of the United States would be toward the Carbajal government.

While the Washington government will not recognize Carbajal, Minister Suarez learned that the American government was not disinclined to treat informally with the new administration until a transfer of power to the Constitutionalists could be effected.

Minister Suarez had a conference with Fernando Iglesias Calderon, head of the Liberal party in Mexico, and here on a private mission for General Carranza. It is believed that they talked about the efforts being made to bring the two contending Mexican factions into communication so that there may be a change of government in Mexico City without further bloodshed.

Mr. Calderon holds the view that unless the Huerta forces are ready to capitulate conferences would be futile.

General Carranza notified the United States through John R. Sullivan, formerly American consul at Saltillo, that only the unconditional surrender of the authorities at Mexico City would be accepted.

ITALIAN FIEND KILLS SEVEN

Crimes Are Presumably to Satisfy Old Grudges.

Bergamo, Italy, July 14.—Simone Planetta, a peasant of the village of Camerata Cornello, killed seven persons, presumably to satisfy old grudges in the case of some of them. He took refuge in the mountains, where carabinieri are hunting him.

Planetta appeared in the neighboring village of San Giovanni Banco, armed with a gun. Coming upon the village physician, Dr. Morali, he shot him dead. He proceeded to the house of the parish priest, Father Paleni, burst into a room where the priest was sitting at the bedside of his step-mother and killed him before the eyes of the sick woman, who is dying from the shock.

Planetta's next victim was Signor Giudice, the secretary of the local authorities, and he also shot to death Giudice's daughter Valarya. On leaving Giudice's house, Planetta went to ward the open country and on his way killed two men who were walking along the highway. He closed his list by shooting a laborer who was digging in a field.

SLAYS FAMILY AND HIMSELF

Believed Wife and Children Were Near Capture by Arabs.

Oran, Algeria, July 14.—Under the influence of an overpowering hallucination that Arabs were about to capture them Captain Gonze of the Second regiment, foreign legion, shot and killed his wife and three children as they slept, then committed suicide. The captain left a letter explaining he had been suffering from hallucinations of ever increasing force for some months.

MILITANTS ATTEMPT TO DESTROY CHAPEL.

Edinburgh, Scotland, July 14.—A militant suffragette + bomb was exploded in the historic Roslyn chapel, seven + miles from Edinburgh. Little + damage was done. The chapel + was founded in 1446.

G. O. P. Committeeman Dies.

Walla Walla, Wash., July 14.—C. C. Gose, Republican national committeeman from this state, died here after an operation for appendicitis. He was born in Sullivan county, Missouri, in 1859.

BAGGAGE ORDER SUSPENDED

North Dakota Commission Grants Roads Second Hearing.

Bismarck, N. D., July 14.—The formal order of the state rail commission, suspending its recent order to railroads operating in the state to reinstate the sale of interstate baggage coupons, based on the newly created North Dakota excess baggage rate, has been issued.

The order to suspend the coupon book decision comes as a result of the decision to grant the railroads another hearing on the question. The second hearing will be held July 25 in Bismarck.

Under the previous order of the commission the railroads were required to resume issuance of the coupon books instead of demanding cash payments for each piece of baggage.

LICENSE ACTS ARE UPHELD

Hunting and Auto Laws of South Dakota Constitutional.

Pierre, S. D., July 14.—In the supreme court Judge Oates holds that the hunting license act of the state is constitutional, in the case from Hamlin county, in which Joe Kirby was fined for hunting without a license. The lower court is sustained.

In the habeas corpus application of William Hofert to test the automobile license act Justice Polley sustains the constitutionality of the license act, holding that it is not discriminatory nor unconstitutional in its provisions.

FINDER OF BODY ARRESTED

New Jersey Farmer Held for Youth's Murder.

Riverside, N. J., July 14.—Edward Murphy, a farmer, who was the first to discover the death of Herman Fisher, the seventeen-year-old lad who was shot as he was on his way home from the home of Ida Wilhelm, his sweetheart, early Sunday, was arrested in connection with the murder.

A ten-gauge shotgun, such as was used to kill Fisher, was found hidden in Murphy's barn, with a pair of shoes which fit the footprints found near the scene of the crime.

ASSAILS COMMISSION BILL

Senator Reed Flays Administration Measure.

Washington, July 14.—Attacking the administration interstate trade commission bill on the floor of the senate Senator Reed of Missouri, Democratic member of the judiciary committee, urged that the interstate commerce and judiciary committees should get together to work out the trust legislation jointly with a view of consolidating all pending measures on the subject.

Senator Reed's attack, directed particularly at the section relating to "unfair competition," was followed by assaults from other members of the judiciary committee and later it developed that an unsuccessful effort already had been made by the interstate commerce committee to have the judiciary committee co-operate with it.

SLAYS FELLOW WORKMAN

Austrian Fires Two Bullets Into Victim's Body.

Madison, Wis., July 14.—After firing two bullets into the body of a fellow worker, Joe Drugnic, an Austrian laborer, was arrested on a charge of murder. The tragedy took place on the Northwestern railroad where both were employed.

BICKFORD MAY GO TO PEN

Legal Authorities Say North Dakotan Must Serve Time.

Bismarck, N. D., July 14.—Legal authorities here contend that in spite of the complete pardon granted him by the state board of pardons at the semi-annual meeting last month G. L. Bickford, former state treasurer, found guilty more than two years ago of embezzlement, will be committed to the penitentiary. It is said that the pardon cannot operate unless Bickford is really confined to prison, according to the sentence received from the trial court.

Senate Confirms Morris.

Washington, July 14.—The senate confirmed the nomination of Ira Nelson Morris of Chicago to be minister to Sweden.

CONGRESSMEN NEEDED AT HOME

Political Fences Weak and Personal Attention Demanded.

FORCED TO STAY IN CAPITAL

President Aids Men Who Are Opposed by Giving His Indorsement, but Refuses to Allow Them to Leave Congress at This Time—Williams, Ex-Minister to Greece, Bryan's Friend.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 14.—[Special.]—Many members of the house are in doubt as to whether they should remain in Washington and drag out a dreary existence in keeping a quorum while waiting for the senate to pass the trust bills or go home and look after their political interests personally. If they were home they might be able to fix up a number of things that may defeat them, but if they do go home they may be charged with neglecting government business for which they were elected.

President Wilson has made it rather plain that the duty of Democrats is to remain in Washington. He has given them his indorsement, calling them men of patriotism. This indorsement is meant to be of use in the primaries where men have opposition for renomination. At the same time the brand of patriotism is not all they want. The large majority fear that the brand may wear off or not be seen. Personal work at home will be more effective. Consequently they want an early adjournment.

Served With Bryan.

George Fred Williams, who, as minister to Greece, has caused talk in and outside of diplomatic circles, was a pronounced anti-Wilson man in the preliminary campaign of 1912, so much so that he prepared extracts from Wilson's speeches and writings to show that Wilson could not be elected. That he was given a foreign appointment was rather surprising, but not to those who remembered that Williams and Bryan entered the house together back in the fifty-second congress and became warm friends. Williams was one of the most earnest supporters of Bryan from his first campaign and ever afterward.

Recedes on Seeds.

The senate spent several days discussing free seeds when the agricultural bill was under consideration. Finally by a roll call the free seed proposition was eliminated. But the house conferees would not accept the change. And they did not have to stand firm. Almost without question the senate receded. Free seeds will be distributed as heretofore.

Borah In Demand.

Quite a number of Republicans, candidates for re-election, have been making inquiries about campaign speakers in their districts and find that there is a great demand for Senator Borah of Idaho. As these Republicans have talked matters over they are saying that it is a pity that Borah is from such a far western state with comparatively small population. "If he were from Ohio or Indiana or any other big state there would be no question about his looming large as a presidential quantity," is a remark quite frequently heard.

"James" Indignation Meeting.

Soon after the report was noised about that James Hamilton Lewis had determined to drop the "James" and hereafter be known as Hamilton he was called into the cloakroom on the Democratic side.

Big Olie James arose and, pointing to other members of the group, said, "James Hamilton Lewis, you see before you James Clarke, James O'Gorman, James Martine, James Reed, James Vardaman and James Brady, all members of the senate, while I am James by surname."

"It almost gives me the jimjams," murmured Lewis, but Olie went on: "We understand you have discarded the name 'James,' and we call you to account for it. James is an honorable name, borne by many worthy men. The best you can say of Hamilton is that he was the sire of many noted horses, but that is no reason why you should prefer that name to James or shirk your full responsibility as one of the 'jims' of this honorable body."

Lewis apologized and asserted that he only put the James in the discard once in order to accommodate the length of a card to mark a desk.

A Brave Man, But—

Congressman Levy of New York is a man of convictions who is not afraid to express them. He was the only man in the Democratic caucus who dared to rise and offer a resolution in opposition to the program of the president. He was bold enough to offer a resolution to adjourn congress the middle of this month. While nine-tenths of the members are with him, they do not so declare themselves.

Making a Real Fight.

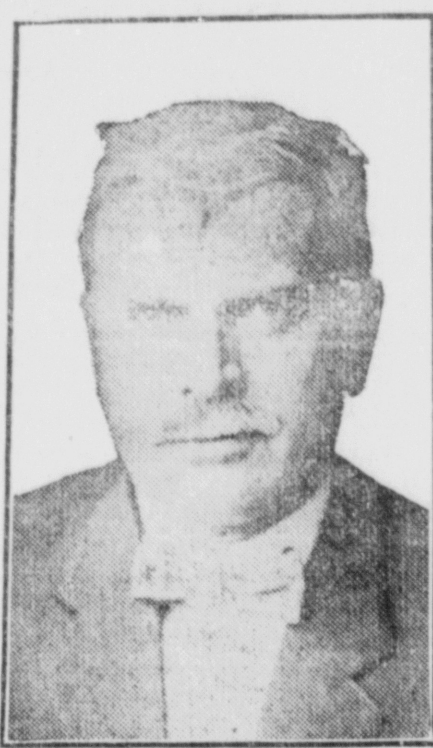

The dozen or more senators who are opposing the rivers and harbors bill are putting up a real fight. They mean to defeat the big bill if they can. While the friends of the measure are confident they are at the same time somewhat disturbed at the persistency of the opponents.

Couldn't Time Them.

A.—Time flies.
B.—I can't. They're too quick for me.—L'Anonyme.

RAILROAD MEN SAY VOTE IS FOR STRIKE

Assert Confidently Men Will Go to Extremes.

Chicago, July 14.—The result of a vote of locomotive engineers and firemen employed by ninety-eight railroads west of Chicago to determine whether they will strike to enforce their demand for a wage increase will be made known at a meeting between the general managers' committee of the railroads and representatives of the men.

It was asserted confidently by railroad men that the employees have voted to sustain their representatives to the extent of a strike if necessary.

Warren S. Stone, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, who have appeared for the employees, are in hopes that the result of the vote will induce the general managers' committee to reconsider its refusal of the demands and to reopen negotiations with the men.

Should this hope prove groundless it was said the government might be asked to mediate under the Erdman act before a strike is ordered.

The total mileage of the roads involved is 140,000 and includes practically all lines in the United States west of Chicago, including the Illinois Central and all lines in Canada west of Fort William except the Grand Trunk Pacific. The number of engineers and firemen involved is about 55,000 and present annual wage is about $67,750,000.

BRIDE HURT WHEN

TANGO WRECKS HALL.

Joliet, Ill., July 14.—Two hundred dancers treading the tango and hesitation at a bridal dance overtaxed the floor beams of a hall and caused them to collapse. The bride, Mrs. Carl Merzk, in whose honor the dance was held, was injured seriously and eight of the guests were hurt.

LONGSHOREMEN MAY STRIKE

Unions on Pacific Coast Want Uniform Wage Scale.

Portland, Ore., July 14.—Upon the result of a referendum vote cast by forty-five unions along the Pacific coast from Juneau to San Diego, relative to action for a uniform wage scale, depends largely whether a general strike of longshoremen is to be called. The count was begun here by the executive committee.

The result will be sent to Milwaukee, where the International Longshoremen's convention is now in session.

VICE DISTRICT MUST GO

Fond du Lac Sheriff Serves Notice on Owners.

Fond du Lac, Wis., July 14.—Pursuant to instructions from District Attorney Downs, Sheriff Pick served notice on every house in the segregated district that it must close by Aug. 1. The owners verbally informed the sheriff they would obey.

31,760 RAT TRAPS

TO FIGHT PLAGUE.

New Orleans, July 14.—Bubonic plague eradication work here will be facilitated by the use of 31,760 rat traps, according to announcement by health authorities. The entire water front will be rat proofed.

CARBAJAL READY TO ASSUME REINS

FOUR COMPANIES INDICTED

Roads and Coal Corporation Face Fines Exceeding $1,000,000.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 14.—Indictments were filed in the United States district court at Rochester against the Pennsylvania railroad, the Northern Central railroad, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Coal company.

All the indictments relate to transactions in connection with the mining of anthracite coal in the Pennsylvania fields and transportation to Buffalo and vicinity and allege unfair advantages by the railroads over other shippers.

The four companies are liable to fines of more than a million dollars if convictions are had.

GIRL ROBBED ON STREET

Man Dashes From Acreway and Grabs Satchel With $8,000.

St. Louis, July 14.—Miss Esther Cohen, cashier at her father's wholesale grocery, was robbed of a satchel said to contain $8,000 in checks and cash on the street here.

Miss Cohen was on the way to a bank. A man ran out of an acreway, snatched the satchel and disappeared.

MANUFACTURERS RAP MOVIES

Also Deplores Loud Clothing Worn by Working Girls.

Milwaukee, July 14.—The Wisconsin vice commission heard employers of girl labor at a session here.

Herman Schwartz, representing a shirt manufacturing company, believed moving picture shows and conspicuous dressing are among the greatest agencies of evil influencing the morality of working girls.

Nathaniel Stone, representing a palm department store, believed that large gardens and dance halls are all right when properly conducted.

Oscar Greenwald, another department store representative, said that department store girls are the most moral of any class of working girls.

Huerta Will Resign Mexican Presidency Wednesday.

STARTLING RUMORS AFLOAT

Report in Circulation at Vera Cruz That President Huerta Has Been Assassinated by Federal Officers on the Streets of Mexico City Lacks Confirmation.

+++++

Vera Cruz, July 14.—Strong rumors, absolutely unverified, at official headquarters, were in circulation here that General Huerta was assassinated by federal officers on the streets of Mexico City.

+++++

Washington, July 14.—General Huerta will resign as provisional president of Mexico Wednesday.

This was the report to Washington of the Brazilian minister to Mexico, who added that Francisco Carbajal, newly appointed minister of foreign affairs, is ready to assume the reins.

Minister Suarez of Chile, one of the mediators, anticipating the retirement of Huerta, sought in an informal talk with Secretary Bryan to learn what the attitude of the United States would be toward the Carbajal government.

While the Washington government will not recognize Carbajal, Minister Suarez learned that the American government was not disinclined to treat informally with the new administration until a transfer of power to the Constitutionals could be effected.

Minister Suarez had a conference with Fernando Iglesias Calderon, head of the Liberal party in Mexico, and here on a private mission for General Carranza. It is believed that they talked about the efforts being made to bring the two contending Mexican factions into communication so that there may be a change of government in Mexico City without further bloodshed.

Mr. Calderon holds the view that unless the Huerta forces are ready to capitulate conferences would be futile.

General Carranza notified the United States through John R. Silliman, formerly American consul at Saltillo, that only the unconditional surrender of the authorities at Mexico City would be accepted.

ITALIAN FIEND KILLS SEVEN

Crimes Are Presumably to Satisfy Old Grudges.

Bergamo, Italy, July 14.—Simone Pianetta, a peasant of the village of Camerata Cornello, killed seven persons, presumably to satisfy old grudges in the case of some of them. He took refuge in the mountains, where carabinieri are hunting him.

Pianetta appeared in the neighboring village of San Giovanni Banco, armed with a gun. Coming upon the village physician, Dr. Morali, he shot him dead. He proceeded to the house of the parish priest, Father Palent, burst into a room where the priest was sitting at the bedside of his stepmother and killed him before the eyes of the sick woman, who is dying from the shock.

Pianetta's next victim was Signor Giudice, the secretary of the local authorities, and he also shot to death Giudice's daughter Valerya. On leaving Giudice's house, Pianetta went to ward the open country and on his way killed two men who were walking along the highway. He closed his list by shooting a laborer who was digging in a field.

SLAYS FAMILY AND HIMSELF

Believed Wife and Children Were Near Capture by Arabs.

Oran, Algeria, July 14.—Under the influence of an overpowering hallucination that Arabs were about to capture them Captain Gouze of the Second regiment, foreign legion, shot and killed his wife and three children as they slept, then committed suicide. The captain left a letter explaining he had been suffering from hallucinations of ever increasing force for some months.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it incurable, and by constantly failing to remedy, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. WITH HUERTA OUT, LOOK FOR PEACE

Arrival of Dictator's Family at
Vera Cruz.

REBELS ARE HARD TO HANDLE

They Declare Fact That United States Is Virtual Ally of Theirs Is Detriment Instead of Help—All Parties in Mexico Regard This Government With Disfavor.

The administration at Washington received information that members of General Huerta's family had arrived at Vera Cruz. For some reason this information was guarded rather carefully, and the full significance of the advice received in connection with it could not be ascertained from any authoritative source, says a dispatch to the New York Times. There is no doubt, however, that well informed officials of the government regarded the presence of the Huerta family at Vera Cruz as merely preliminary to the flight of the dictator from the capital.

The advice received were coupled with the information that the wife of General Huerta, former minister of foreign affairs in the Huerta cabinet, was with the Huerta party and would wait at Vera Cruz for the arrival of her husband before sailing away from Mexico. From this it was inferred that Huerta and Madero would leave the City of Mexico together and join their families at Vera Cruz.

There is a growing feeling that with Huerta removed as a factor in the Mexican situation the chief obstacle to a peaceable adjustment of Mexico's troubles will disappear. But the Wilson administration has found it difficult to convince the Constitutionalists that its interest in a speedy settlement is born of a desire to do what is best for Mexico's welfare. As long as the revolutionists found the United States government willing to help along the anti-Huerta cause by its attitude concerning shipments of arms and ammunition into Mexico, they showed an extremely friendly disposition toward the administration. Now, however, they are disposed to forget. At most all that the Constitutionalists are willing to acknowledge is that the refusal of President Wilson to recognize General Huerta as the provisional president de jure of Mexico has been of indirect benefit to their cause.

Our Aid a Detriment.

According to the position of the Constitutionalists, the fact that the United States is a virtual ally of theirs is a detriment instead of a help. Their attitude is that, as all parties in Mexico regard this government with disfavor, knowledge that it was giving active assistance to the Constitutionalists' cause would make that party unpopular. This was one of the reasons for the unwillingness of the revolutionary leaders to recognize the efforts the Washington government was making to support the Constitutional side of the issues presented in the Niagara Falls negotiations.

The administration has been tolerant of this attitude. It has been willing to overlook the seeming lack of gratitude involved. The present set purpose of the administration is to bring the troubles in Mexico to an end through peaceful means, and it is not particular as to how that outcome is achieved so long as the danger of intervention is removed. In every possible way it seeks to show the Constitutionalists that it has no desire to interfere in the adjustment of the internal problems of Mexico. It was this spirit that caused the American peace delegates to leave Niagara Falls. Through that course the revolutionary leaders were made to understand that their delegates were free to confer with the plenipotentiaries of Huerta.

There was hopeful feeling that the Constitutionalists had not been unkindly of the motives that have actuated the United States government and the South American governments.

WHY RICH BUTTER IS YELLOW

Due to Carotin in Cow's Rations, Says Department of Agriculture.

The rich, yellow color demanded by the public in dairy products has been shown to be due primarily to the nature of cow feed. This announcement was made by the department of agriculture as the result of experiments carried on in co-operation with the Missouri state experiment station.

The department's conclusion is that, although to some extent a breed characteristic, the intensity of this yellow color may within certain limits be increased or diminished at will by changing the cow's rations.

Chemical tests show that the yellow color in milk is produced by several well known pigments found in green plants, the principal one being carotin, so called because it constitutes a large part of the coloring matter of carrots. The other yellow pigments in milk are known as xanthophylls. These are found in a number of plants, including grass, but are especially abundant in yellow autumn leaves.

This explains the fact that fresh green grass and carrots increase the yellowness of butter. Green grass, it is stated, is probably richer in carotin than any other dairy feed and cows feeding on it produce the highest colored butter.

WANTING TOO MUCH.

It is wanting too much, not having too little, that often makes us miserable. For the most part our distress, our poverty, our caring care come not from the smallness of our provisions, but from the largeness of our pampered desires. A hundred dollars looks very small to the man who wants a thousand, yet there is real provision for many needs in the hundred.

MEXICO'S ROYAL GHOST.

Legend of the Rumbling Cave of Las Sierrvas Hot Springs.

The hot springs of Las Sierrvas, near Valle de Canizos, in a remote part of the state of Guerrero, Mexico, have been visited by few people from the outside world, but they are famous in the legends and history of the Indian tribes of that part of the republic.

According to the natives, the waters of the springs possess great medicinal properties. In ancient times the springs were the favorite bathing resort of the noble families of the Tepaneca, Alcolhua and other tribes that lived in that region.

On both sides of the chief spring there are huge rocks with hieroglyphics and the figures of women beautifully carved. Judging from the robes worn by the women, their stately appearance and the jewels around their necks, the figures must represent princesses or ladies of very high rank.

The spring is at the entrance to a grotto that has never been explored. From the grotto a rumbling sound resembling distant thunder is to be heard all the time. According to natives, the rumble is caused by the ghost of King Examinia, who ruled over that part of the country three or four centuries before the Spaniards discovered America.

King Examinia, the tradition says, was as bad as man could be. He murdered people merely for the pleasure of seeing them die and committed every crime. He had his palace constructed in another cave, which communicated with that of the spring by a tunnel. There Examinia, in company with some of his favorites, had orgies that lasted weeks and months.

When he died an earthquake destroyed his palace. Since that day his ghost has been haunting the cave near the spring, and none of the natives has ever dared go into the cave.—New York Sun.

GREEKS LOATHE THE TURKS.

An Incident That Shows How Deep Seated is the Hatred.

The extent to which the Greeks' hatred of the Turks goes is illustrated in "A Child of the Orient," by Demetra Vaka. The author's Aunt Kalliroe was an old Greek woman, whose feelings were the most anti-Turk. She had bought a large Greek homestead, for which she had no use and which she could not at all afford, solely to keep it from falling into the possession of a Turk. The author writes:

"The next time we visited Aunt Kalliroe she was installed in the Sparyth homestead. Just within the front door stood a small table, covered with a white linen tablecloth, such as an orthodox Greek woman spun herself for the purpose of putting on the table where the ikons were laid—a tablecloth always washed by the mistress herself in a basin kept apart from the other dishes. On the table lay a Greek ikon, a brass candlestick holding three candles, all burning, and a brass incense burner, from which a column of blue smoke was rising, filling the house with the odor of incense.

"Why, it isn't Easter, and it isn't Christmas," I cried. "It isn't even a great saint's day. Why are you burning the candles and the incense, great-aunt?"

"They have been burning since I moved into this house, and they shall burn for thirty forty days, to cleanse it from Turkish pollution."

"But since Baky Pasha never bought it and never lived in it—"

"No, but a Turk coveted it, and that is enough to pollute a Christian home."

Good Word For Religion.

This is a broad minded age, and the gentleman on the last tram, who was in what one may define as the talkative stage, shared the characteristics of the times. "I've nothin' to say against 'im even if he does belong to a P. S. A. I'm no bigot, not a bit of it. An' I say this—that, considerin' all things, I've not found these religious chaps to be worse than ordinary feelers like you an' me."—Manchester Guardian.

First Coined Money.

To Lydia, the industrial power of the ancient world, belongs the honor of having issued the first coined money. The earliest known coins were stamped on one side with a lion's head or the figure of a king with bow and quiver. So far as we know the first coinage of gold dates from King Croesus of Lydia. It is impossible to say just what form the earliest money (medium of exchange) took. Probably it was cattle, from which our word pecuniary comes.—New York American.

Planning a Future.

"Do you think you can support my daughter in the style to which she has been accustomed?"

"Yes," replied the stung young man after some hesitation. "But don't you think I'd better stick around with your family a few years so as not to get accustomed to it?"—Washington Star.

Nothing Done.

"Can I interest you in an attachment for your typewriter?" asked the agent as he entered the office.

"No chance," replied Mr. Grouch. "I'm still paying attorney on the strength of the attachment I had for my last typewriter."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Drawing Materials.

"What have you got in that little package?"

"Drawing materials."

"I didn't know you were an artist."

"Artist nothing! It contains a couple of pairs of forceps the dentist asked me to get for him."—Boston Transcript.

Nothing to Offer.

"Have you," asked the judge of a recently convicted man, "anything to offer the court before sentence is passed?"

"No, your honor," replied the prisoner. "My lawyer took my last farthing."—London Mail.

ORIGIN OF METALS

Varied Theories as to How the Ores Are Formed.

NATURE HIDES THE SECRET.

Science Has For Centuries Tried to Wrest It From Her, but Geologists and Mineralogists Are as Yet Unable to Agree Upon the Process.

You have read of that legendary Indian who while chasing game on a Bolivian mountain side seized a bush to prevent himself from falling, and the bush being pulled loose from its scanty hold on the rocks, he saw its crooked roots grasping masses of gleaming white ore and thus became the discoverer of the famous silver mines of Potosi.

You have also read, perhaps with itching fingers, of prospectors picking up nuggets of gold worth a thousand dollars each or opening veins of quartz all shot through with heavy threads of the yellow metal.

You know that ores of gold and silver or of any other precious or useful metal are not to be found in everybody's back yard, but must be sought for in certain favored parts of the earth.

But has your intelligent curiosity ever led you to inquire how those ores came to be where they are and nowhere else? Have you ever wondered what makes a gold nugget?

Possibly you think that gold and other metals grow somewhat as fruits do—in soils and climates that are specially suited to them. Well, there is considerable truth in that idea, and the word "grow" is, in one sense, surprisingly applicable to such deposits.

But there is a great deal more in the matter than you would imagine, and on no subject has science fought more battles royal than on this of the origin of metallic ores. I think that there are some geologists who would rather find out this secret to the very bottom than discover the richest lode that the ribs of the earth contain. If they could do both that would be perfection, and we must not forget that knowledge is power.

Until about 400 years ago everybody who thought about it at all believed that veins of precious ore were distributed under the influence of the planets. At that time astrology held the place of science.

Finally George Agricola, a German mineralogist, who lived about the time when the gold and silver of Mexico and Peru were making Spain the temporary mistress of the world, hit upon a theory which came in substance very near the truth. He taught that water, penetrating into the earth and becoming heated, took up scattered minerals in solution and afterward deposited them as ores in cavities in the rocks. The mineral solutions he called the earth's "juices."

A couple of hundred years later the German geologist Werner set forth a view that became very famous under the name of the "Neptunist theory," from Neptune, the god of the sea. Werner's idea was that as the earth cooled down from the primeval nebula out of which it was formed it was enveloped in a universal hot ocean, holding in solution all kinds of minerals, and that when the rocky crust was formed the water leaking down into it deposited its metallic contents by chemical precipitation in veins and lodes wherever the circumstances were favorable.

But a hundred years ago the Neptunist theory, which had swept everything before it in the minds of men of science, met its Waterloo at the hands of Hutton, the Scottish geologist, with his "Plutonic" theory (from Pluto, the god of the infernal regions). Hutton's idea was that the materials which fill the metallic veins were melted by heat and forcibly injected into the clefts and fissures of the strata from below.

The "Neptunists" and "Plutonists" had a hard fight, with the latter holding the upper hand, until their theory had assumed a kind of compromise form, with water again playing the principal role. The American geologist, Van Hise, is the author of one of the latest theories, according to which meteoric water (condensed atmospheric vapor) penetrates deep into the earth's crust, and, with steadily increasing temperature, takes up mineral matter into solution. Spreading, as it gets deeper, the water reaches larger openings in the rocky strata, in which it ascends, with decreasing temperature and pressure.

There it deposits the ores, whose materials it has collected in its wanderings and carried along in solution.

But this is not the last word, and in recent years there has been a partial reaction toward the Plutonic theory. Besides, a great deal seems to depend upon the nature of the ore whose origin is in question.—Garrett P. Serviss in New York Journal.

CONFISCATE THE EDITION.

Newspaper Issues Often Suppressed by the Austrian Censors.

"By order of the 'royal press court' this issue of your paper is hereby confiscated for printing news which the court considers should not be made public." A policeman, with a sword dangling at his side and holding in his hand an official document with an imposing seal on it, enters the managing editor's room and delivers the decree.

It is the famous Austrian press censorship and confiscation machine, called for short the "confiscation apparatus," at work. Down below the big presses are thundering along on the last few thousand copies of a big circulation. It is 3 o'clock in the morning—too late to "make over" by tearing out the offending article or news item, putting something else in its place and reprinting the entire edition.

From the numerous rooms which make up the editorial sanctum there rolls one "Donnerwetter!" and "Verdammt!" after another. The managing editor orders a small sheet, not much larger than a handbill, hastily printed, that will tell the subscribers why they will not receive their paper that morning.

This is a scene which has taken place frequently in Viennese newspaper offices lately. One afternoon recently the editions of five evening papers were confiscated. Probably no editors in the world can tell as many interesting stories of news that never reached their readers as the Viennese.

From an American viewpoint of a free press the Austrian press laws, press censorship and "confiscation apparatus" is about the most absurd and antiquated institution in existence. Apparently it was created largely for the purpose of keeping the truth from the public.

In Austria books, pictures, illustrated catalogues, price lists, handbills, advertisements and advertising literature, newspapers, periodicals and publications which appear occasionally, signs and signboards, posters—in fact, everything that conveys meaning to the mind by means of type, pictures or symbols is subject to censorship. Until recently even private calling or "visiting" cards were subject to censorship. The printer had to lay a proof of a card before the "press court" before he could deliver the order.

Any district or superior court may constitute itself a "press court" to pass upon and order the confiscation of any newspaper in its jurisdiction.—Vienna Cor. New York Tribune.

Archaisms in the Authorized Version.

In the real authorized version of 1611, King James' Bible, are a good many archaisms which the printers have since modernized, such as "ought him a hundred pence," "yer" for "ere," "biles" for "boils," "fet" for "fetched," "gin" for "grin" (a trap, "moo" for "more" and "all to" should be one word at Judges ix, 53, "all to brake his head," where, however, the printers have resisted the temptation to substitute "break." In Psalm cxlv, 3, "Great is the Lord and marvelous, worthy to be praised," there should be no comma after "marvelous," which is an adverb qualifying "worthy." This correction has been made in recent prayer books.—London Saturday Review.

Immigrants and Literacy.

Scandinavians lead the world in point of literacy. Among every twenty German immigrants over fourteen years old is found one illiterate. Of immigrants from other nations it is claimed there is found an illiterate among every twenty-three Dutch, thirty-eight Irish, fifty-two Welsh, fifty-nine Bohemians, seventy-seven Finnish, 100 English and 143 Scottish, but the proportion among those who come from Scandinavia is one in 250. Among the Lithuanian immigrants and those from southern Italy half of them read no language.—Argonaut.

One Letter Names.

O is a village of France, in the commune of Mortree, at a distance of fifteen kilometers from Argentan, itself at a distance of thirty-five kilometers from Alencon. This Norman hamlet has at last accounts twenty-three inhabitants and the proud memory of the extinct marquise of O, which dates back to the crusades. The last marquis, superintendent of the finances of Henri III., lived a spendthrift and died a pauper. Another instance of single letter geography is Y, the arm of the sea which penetrates the Netherlands.

The Culprit.

A schoolteacher complained to the principal one day that one of the big boys was flirting outrageously with the music teacher, who came in once a day. The principal spoke severely to the class and ended by saying that out of consideration for the feelings of the culprit he would not name him in public. At the close of the session, however, he was to come to the principal's office for an interview.

Yes, you guessed it. All the boys in the class showed up.—Chicago News.

WITH HUERTA OUT, LOOK FOR PEACE

Arrival of Dictator's Family at
Vera Cruz.

REBELS ARE HARD TO HANDLE

They Declare Fact That United States Is Virtual Ally of Huerta Is Detriment Instead of Help—All Parties in Mexico Regard This Government With Disfavor.

The administration at Washington received information that members of General Huerta's family had arrived at Vera Cruz. For some reason this information was guarded rather carefully, and the full significance of the advice received in connection with it could not be ascertained from any authoritative source, says a dispatch to the New York Times. There is no doubt, however, that well informed officials of the government regarded the presence of the Huerta family at Vera Cruz as merely preliminary to the flight of the dictator from the capital.

The advice received were coupled with the information that the wife of General Huerta, former minister of foreign affairs in the Huerta cabinet, was with the Huerta party and would wait at Vera Cruz for the arrival of her husband before sailing away from Mexico. From this it was inferred that Huerta and Madero would leave the City of Mexico together and join their families at Vera Cruz.

There is a growing feeling that with Huerta removed as a factor in the Mexican situation the chief obstacle to a peaceable adjustment of Mexico's troubles will disappear. But the Wilson administration has found it difficult to convince the Constitutionalists that their interest in a speedy settlement is born of a desire to do what is best for Mexico's welfare. As long as the revolutionists found the United States government willing to help along the anti-Huerta cause by its attitude concerning shipments of arms and ammunition into Mexico, they showed an extremely friendly disposition toward the administration. Now, however, they are disposed to forget. At least all that the Constitutionalists are willing to acknowledge is that the refusal of President Wilson to recognize General Huerta as the provisional president de jure of Mexico has been of indirect benefit to their cause.

Our Aid a Detriment.

According to the position of the Constitutionalists, the fact that the United States is a virtual ally of theirs is a detriment instead of a help. Their attitude is that, as all parties in Mexico regard this government with disfavor, knowledge that it was giving active assistance to the Constitutionalists' cause would make that party unpopular. This was one of the reasons for the unwillingness of the revolutionary leaders to recognize the efforts the Washington government was making to support the Constitutionalists' side of the issues presented in the Niagara Falls negotiations.

The administration has been tolerant of this attitude. It has been willing to overlook the seeming lack of gratitude involved. The present set purpose of the administration is to bring the troubles in Mexico to an end through peaceful means, and it is not particular as to how that outcome is achieved so long as the danger of intervention is removed. In every possible way it seeks to show the Constitutionalists that it has no desire to interfere in the adjustment of the internal problems of Mexico. It was this spirit that caused the American peace delegates to leave Niagara Falls. Through that course the revolutionary leaders were made to understand that their delegates were free to confer with the plenipotentiaries of Huerta.

There was hopeful feeling that the Constitutionalists have not been unmindful of the motives that have actuated the United States government and the South American governments.

WHY RICH BUTTER IS YELLOW

Due to Carotin in Cow's Rations, Says Department of Agriculture.

The rich, yellow color demanded by the public in dairy products has been shown to be due primarily to the nature of cow feed. This announcement was made by the department of agriculture as the result of experiments carried on in co-operation with the Wisconsin state experiment station.

The department's conclusion is that, although to some extent a breed characteristic, the intensity of this yellow color may within certain limits be increased or diminished at will by changing the cow's rations.

Chemical tests show that the yellow color in milk is produced by several well known pigments found in green plants, the principal one being carotin, so called because it constitutes a large part of the coloring matter of carrots. The other yellow pigments in milk are known as xanthophylls. These are found in a number of plants, including grass, but are especially abundant in yellow autumn leaves.

This explains the fact that fresh green grass and carrots increase the yellowness of butter. Green grass, it is stated, is probably richer in carotin than any other dairy feed and cows feeding on it produce the highest colored butter.

WANTING TOO MUCH.

It is wanting too much, not having too little, that often makes us miserable. For the most part our distress, our poverty, our carking care come not from the smallness of our provisions, but from the largeness of our pampered desires. A hundred dollars looks very small to the man who wants a thousand, yet there is real provision for many needs in the hundred.

MEXICO'S ROYAL GHOST.

Legend of the Rumbling Cave of Las Sierrvas Hot Springs.

The hot springs of Las Sierrvas, near Valle de Canizos, in a remote part of the state of Guerrero, Mexico, have been visited by few people from the outside world, but they are famous in the legends and history of the Indian tribes of that part of the republic.

According to the natives, the waters of the springs possess great medicinal properties. In ancient times the springs were the favorite bathing resort of the noble families of the Tepaneca, Alcolhua and other tribes that lived in that region.

On both sides of the chief spring there are huge rocks with hieroglyphics and the figures of women beautifully carved. Judging from the robes worn by the women, their stately appearance and the jewels around their necks, the figures must represent princesses or ladies of very high rank.

The spring is at the entrance to a grotto that has never been explored. From the grotto a rumbling sound resembling distant thunder is to be heard all the time. According to natives, the rumble is caused by the ghost of King Excanima, who ruled over that part of the country three or four centuries before the Spaniards discovered America.

King Excanima, the tradition says, was as bad as man could be. He murdered people merely for the pleasure of seeing them die and committed every crime. He had his palace constructed in another cave, which communicated with that of the spring by a tunnel. There Excanima, in company with some of his favorites, had orgies that lasted weeks and months.

When he died an earthquake destroyed his palace. Since that day his ghost has been haunting the cave near the spring, and none of the natives has ever dared go into the cave.—New York Sun.

GREEKS LOATHE THE TURKS.

An Incident That Shows How Deep Seated is the Hatred.

The extent to which the Greeks' hatred of the Turks goes is illustrated in "A Child of the Orient," by Demetra Vaka. The author's Aunt Kaliree was an old Greek woman, whose feelings were the most anti-Turk. She had bought a large Greek homestead, for which she had no use and which she could not at all afford, solely to keep it from falling into the possession of a Turk. The author writes:

"The next time we visited Aunt Kaliree she was installed in the Spathiary homestead. Just within the front door stood a small table, covered with a white linen tablecloth, such as an orthodox Greek woman spun herself for the purpose of putting on the table where the ikons were laid—a tablecloth always washed by the mistress herself in a basin kept apart from the other dishes. On the table lay a Greek ikon, a brass candlestick holding three candles, all burning, and a brass incense burner, from which a column of blue smoke was rising, filling the house with the odor of incense.

"Why, it isn't Easter, and it isn't Christmas!" I cried. "It isn't even a great saint's day. Why are you burning the candles and the incense, great-aunt?"

"They have been burning since I moved into this house, and they shall burn for three forty days, to cleanse it from Turkish pollution."

"But since Baky Pasha never bought it and never lived in it—"

"No, but a Turk coveted it, and that is enough to pollute a Christian home."

Good Word For Religion.

This is a broad minded age, and the gentleman on the last tram, who was in what one may define as the talkative stage, shared the characteristics of the times. "I've nothin' to say against 'im even if he does belong to a P. S. A. I'm no bigot, not a bit of it. An' I say this—that, considerin' all things, I've not found these religious chaps to be worse than ordinary fellows like you an' me."—Manchester Guardian.

First Coined Money.

To Lydia, the industrial power of the ancient world, belongs the honor of having issued the first coined money. The earliest known coins were stamped on one side with a lion's head or the figure of a king with bow and quiver. So far as we know the first coinage of gold dates from King Croesus of Lydia. It is impossible to say just what form the earliest money medium of exchange took. Probably it was cattle, from which our word pecuniary comes.—New York American.

ORIGIN OF METALS

Varied Theories as to How the Ores Are Formed.

NATURE HIDES THE SECRET.

Science Has For Centuries Tried to Wrest It From Her, but Geologists and Mineralogists Are as Yet Unable to Agree Upon the Process.

You have read of that legendary Indian who while chasing game on a Bolivian mountain side seized a bush to prevent himself from falling, and the bush being pulled loose from its scanty hold on the rocks, he saw its crooked roots grasping masses of gleaming white ore and thus became the discoverer of the famous silver mines of Potosi.

You have also read, perhaps with itching fingers, of prospectors picking up nuggets of gold worth a thousand dollars each or opening veins of quartz all shot through with heavy threads of the yellow metal.

You know that ores of gold and silver or of any other precious or useful metal are not to be found in everybody's back yard, but must be sought for in certain favored parts of the earth.

But has your intelligent curiosity ever led you to inquire how those ores came to be where they are and nowhere else? Have you ever wondered what makes a gold nugget?

Possibly you think that gold and other metals grow somewhat as fruits do—in soils and climates that are specially suited to them. Well, there is considerable truth in that idea, and the word "grow" is, in one sense, surprisingly applicable to such deposits.

But there is a great deal more in the matter than you would imagine, and on no subject has science fought more battles royal than on this of the origin of metallic ores. I think that there are some geologists who would rather find out this secret to the very bottom than discover the richest lode that the ribs of the earth contain. If they could do both that would be perfection, and we must not forget that knowledge is power.

Until about 400 years ago everybody who thought about it at all believed that veins of precious ore were distributed under the influence of the planets. At that time astrology held the place of science.

Finally George Agricola, a German mineralogist, who lived about the time when the gold and silver of Mexico and Peru were making Spain the temporary mistress of the world, hit upon a theory which came in substance very near the truth. He taught that water, penetrating into the earth and becoming heated, took up scattered minerals in solution and afterward deposited them as ores in cavities in the rocks. The mineral solutions he called the earth's "juices."

A couple of hundred years later the German geologist Werner set forth a view that became very famous under the name of the "Neptunist theory," from Neptune, the god of the sea. Werner's idea was that as the earth cooled down from the primeval nebula out of which it was formed it was enveloped in a universal hot ocean, holding in solution all kinds of minerals, and that when the rocky crust was formed the water leaking down into it deposited its metallic contents by chemical precipitation in veins and lodes wherever the circumstances were favorable.

But a hundred years ago the Neptunist theory, which had swept everything before it in the minds of men of science, met its Waterloo at the hands of Hutton, the Scottish geologist, with his "Plutonic" theory (from Pluto, the god of the infernal regions). Hutton's idea was that the materials which fill the metallic veins were melted by heat and forcibly injected into the clefts and fissures of the strata from below.

The "Neptunists" and "Plutonists" had a hard fight, with the latter holding the upper hand, until their theory had assumed a kind of compromise form, with water again playing the principal role. The American geologist, Van Hise, is the author of one of the latest theories, according to which meteoric water (condensed atmospheric vapor) penetrates deep into the earth's crust, and, with steadily increasing temperature, takes up mineral matter into solution. Spreading, as it gets deeper, the water reaches larger openings in the rocky crust, in which it ascends, with decreasing temperature and pressure.

There it deposits the ores, whose materials it has collected in its wanderings and carried along in solution.

But this is not the last word, and in recent years there has been a partial reaction toward the Plutonic theory. Besides, a great deal seems to depend upon the nature of the ore whose origin is in question.—Garrett P. Servis in New York Journal.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Chester D. Tripp, of Crosby, Gives Tonnage of Ironsides and Rogers, Brown Properties

SHIP 450,000 TONS THIS YEAR

The Lenox Development Co. on the South Range—Soo and N. P. Connect at Cedar Lake

Chester D. Tripp, president of the Rogers, Brown Ore Co., as a rule, is a very taciturn person and very seldom grants an interview. However, when Mr. Tripp has something to say it means something. Crosby and Iron-ton and the entire north range were startled into sudden activity when the pumps at the Armour No. 1 mine, long silent, were having new packing put in them. It could mean nothing else than the re-opening of this mine, said everybody.

"Cleaning old pumps on the surface," said President Tripp, "means nothing. The mine will not be opened up." The Armour No. 2 mine is shipping from the shaft. The steam shovel stopped work at the stockpile and will probably resume next week. The Kennedy is shipping from its shaft and little has been done with the stockpile. When asked about this year's production of the Rogers, Brown Ore Co. properties on the Cuyuna range, Mr. Tripp said:

"The Ironsides property will ship 250,000 tons and the Rogers, Brown Ore Co. 200,000 tons, making a total of 450,000 tons for the year."

The Duluth-Bainard mine north of Iron-ton and near Iron Mountain will be in ore in a few days. Eighteen miners are employed there. Isaac Williams and Gust Hill are the shift bosses. The Seafeld Exploration Co. is drilling in section 20, township 47, range 28, north of the town of Cuyuna. John T. Murphy, editor of the Superior Telegram, interested in the fee in the Rowe mine at Riverton and the leasehold of the June Lake Iron Co. property, has arrived at Crosby for a three days' visit on the range. Mr. Murphy spoke very optimistically of the properties mentioned. Ben P. Brown and M. A. Keeley of Grand Forks, N. D., interested in the Cuyuna-Sultana property, were on the range this week.

Franklin W. Merritt will open up his holdings in section 33, township 47, range 29 and will prove up the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter where the High Grade Manganese Ore Co. drilled a year ago. Drilling will be done by the Stowell Exploration Co. and the drill hole was spotted Wednesday.

At the Cuyuna-Sultana property it is estimated that 16,200,000 tons of ore have been proven up. The progress of the shaft has been very satisfactory. It is now down over 64 feet, showing five feet of ore. The shaft will be put down to 75 feet, at which depth drifting will be done. The mine ore is especially valuable on account of its manganeseiferous qualities, thus commanding a higher price in the market than ordinary iron ore.

At the Barrows mine at Barrows the M. A. Hanna Co. is taking up the last big pump and steam will be shut off in a few days. Supt. W. J. Nicholas, who has been a year and a month at Barrows, expected to be transferred to the Crystal Falls district in Michigan.

The Lenox Development company held its regular monthly meeting on their property in section 10, township 43, range 32 just below the present station of Lenox on the Northern Pacific railway, and at this meeting important developments were considered. The matter of the alliance with active furnace interests in the east has advanced to the point for action here. Details are lacking, but in the near future important information of vital interest to the whole Cuyuna range will be announced. The Lenox Development company owns 254 acres. The north end of the property has been drilled and good merchantable ore is known to exist in considerable quantities. It is proposed to drill further and disclose larger amounts of ore. Just north of them the B. B. Gaylord drill has disclosed a good body of ore. The Lenox Development Co. is well organized for rapid and intelligent action, having among its officers men favorably acquainted in the east with iron interests. Their success along new lines will prove profitable to the whole range.

Eastern directors of the American Manganese Manufacturing Co. are expected on the range next week to inspect the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs and the Cuyuna-Duluth mines to arrange for heavy shipments. The Interstate Mining Co. is check drilling the property of the Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore Co. and finding good ore. Locker-Donahue interests are reported to have put a drill in the Bay Lake country. Charles Harkins has charge of the drill. The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine has recently completed shipments to the Lake Superior Iron & Chemical Co. at Ashland.

E. J. W. Donahue and family of Duluth are spending the summer at Deerwood. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Denny of Duluth, and family are at Bay Lake. Chester D. Tripp and family of Chicago are at their summer home in Crosby. More and more the mining men of the country interested in the Cuyuna iron range spend their summers at the many beautiful summer resorts dotting the country. Of all the mining ranges in Minnesota, the Cuyuna is the only one having mineral, agricultural and summer attractions.

After meeting with no serious obstacles and making bed rock, Supt. Allen MacKay may have thought his troubles were over and that his shaft was down permanently. But a boll of water was encountered and in a short time the shaft had filled up 50 feet. This was cleared out in three days and further sinking is now in progress. The same difficulty was encountered by the Brainerd-Cuyuna mine of the city limits of Brainerd. The first shaft filled with quicksand and water. The second one, backed by 40 foot steel piling driven through the quicksand area is now about in ledge, and both shafts are comparatively free from water.

Three options for sub-lease have been filed and these include Frank A. Barber and others to Louis Peterson, covering the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 33, township 47, range 29; the High Grade Manganese Co. to Franklin W. Merritt and Louis Peterson and covering the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 33, township 47, range 29; W. A. Kerr to Louis Peterson and covering the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 33, township 47, range 29.

At the Merrimac Mining company property including the Hans Anderson forty and the forty owned by John G. Williams and A. M. Chisholm of Duluth and B. Magellan, Jr., of Deerwood, surveys have designated where the main shaft is to be, with the temporary shaft 400 feet north.

Of the tonnage which the Cuyuna iron range is practically assured is that of the Ironsides mine 250,000 tons, the Rogers, Brown Ore Co. 200,000 tons, the Thompson pit mine soon to start shipping, 250,000 tons; the Rowe pit mine in Riverton 300,000 tons while the Barrows mine has shipped 20,000 and the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine about that amount. Other mines are preparing for shipments.

The Rowe pit mine is making heavy shipments. The first train of 90 ore cars reached Superior and regular shipments will be made hereafter until a total of 300,000 tons are shipped this season. None of the other pit mines have shipped.

The rails are laid the full distance from Loerch on the Northern Pacific railway to the Wilcox mine. Northern Pacific officials have authorized the connection at Cedar Lake with the Soo Line. The general idea is that the Northern Pacific will get considerable haulage from the Kennedy mine at Cuyuna.

At the county poor farm of Crow Wing county the Longyear Exploration Co. drill is down fifty feet in the surface at the fourth hole. Some ore, 50 per cent in quality, but at considerable depth, was found in the second hole.

The Star Iron Mining company has been incorporated by Ben P. Brown and M. A. Keeley of Duluth and E. A. Lamb of Deerwood. The company is capitalized at $50,000 and the highest amount of indebtedness allowed is $10,000. The principal place of business is Iron-ton. The directors include the names mentioned and W. W. Fegan and E. A. Hershberger of Grand Forks, N. D. The first officers elected are President W. W. Fegan, vice president Ben P. Brown, secretary E. A. Lamb and treasurer M. A. Keeley.

The Iron Trade Review, in speaking of business conditions, says: "The last half of the year 1912 was one of great prosperity and some furnace men report that they see indications of a good buying movement in pig iron, which they believe will be well under way by September 1 and possibly equal the movement of the last half of 1912. During the past week, there has been increased activity in the Pittsburgh market and two large lots, one of 29,000 tons and another of 10,000 tons, have been sold. Tonnages of good size are pending in the east, but sales are not numerous. The General Electric Co. has purchased 10,000 tons of foundry iron and inquiries are pending for about 50,000 tons of iron for export.

Among manufacturers of cars and other kinds of railroad equipment, there is a distinctly more optimistic sentiment and it is believed that liberal buying by the railroads will soon be inaugurated. Positive information is to the effect that inquiries for about 10,000 cars will soon appear in the eastern district.

The Pennsylvania railroad has distributed the remaining 100,000 tons of its 1914 rail order, 44,000 tons going to the Steel Corporation, 22,000 tons each to the Pennsylvania and Cambria steel companies and 6,000 tons each to the Bethlehem and Lackawanna steel companies. The Seaboard Air Line has ordered 6,000 kegs of spikes and much more spike business is still pending. Two leading eastern agricultural implement makers have contracted for from 15,000 to 20,000 tons of steel bars, but many of these manufacturers in the central and west have not yet been covered. Mills are firmly resisting efforts of buyers to contract at less than 1.15c, Pittsburgh, which is the prevailing price up to January 1, while 1.20c is the usual quotation for delivery after that date."

PLAN TRAINING OF CHINESE DOCTORS

Country Still In Dark Ages of Medicine.

MUST COMBAT OPPOSITION.

Territory So Vast Rockefeller Commission Can't Supply Enough Foreign Medicines—Natives Wary of Innovations—Chinese Apparently Cannot Even Set a Bone.

The Rockefeller commission, which is in Peking investigating China's needs in a medical and surgical way, already has found that a most important point is this: The Chinese must be taught to doctor themselves along modern lines and not rely, except for the present, upon the foreign medical men.

The country is so vast and the need of the medical men so extensive that all the doctors and surgeons in America could be utilized in China. Such a great invasion or even enough to make any wide impression is impracticable. The solution must be the training of the Chinese doctors, says a Peking dispatch to the New York Times. At present there are only a few score of them trained along modern lines, and these have difficulty in making a living. The Chinaman is suspicious of the second-hand training of the modernized Chinese doctor, and if he is moved to resort to foreign treatment he prefers to go direct to the foreign doctor.

The commission, which is represented in Peking by Dr. Harry Pratt Judson, president of Chicago university, and Dr. Francis W. Peabody of Boston, has not gone far enough to commit itself to any definite plan, but its report undoubtedly will be largely concerned with the problem of making the foreign trained native doctor respected in China.

Government Aids. The United States department of state has temporarily detached Roger S. Greene from his consular post at Hankow to aid the commission as an interpreter and guide in its tour of investigation, and the Chinese government, both central and local, has furthered rather than impeded the work of the commission.

In the medical schools the commission has found various men at work trying to coin medical characters and combinations of characters or expressions in Chinese. It was only three years ago that the first class of Chinese educated in China took their medical degrees from the Union college (where American and British missionary doctors work together) in Peking. Last year the first class, a small number, of women doctors was graduated. Because of prejudices against the treatment of women by men, women doctors will have a valuable place in medical work in China.

While the class of Chinese who prefer the old style Chinese doctors is still in the majority, the foreign doctors have more than they can do. The Chinese medicine is a poor thing. The Chinese have had for centuries remedies for certain well known diseases—remedies which are often very effective. But they have never apparently studied anatomy and know little or nothing of the reasons for actions and counteractions. Much, if not most, of their work is quackery. They have very little knowledge of surgery.

Cannot Set a Bone.

As a rule, the Chinese doctor cannot set a bone. Men whose broken limbs could be stuck together by an ordinary man in Europe or America become permanent cripples in China. Such are to be seen even on the streets of Canton, Shanghai and Peking, where the services of the foreign doctors are always available. They are men who have gone to their own instead of foreign doctors and probably have received plasters or even medicine to take internally for their broken bones.

Some of the tales that go through the country about the missionary doctors are to these people like stories of the Bible. A man learns of a surprising cure, which seems to him miraculous. A friend has been shot by brigands or by marauding troops of the government and is paralyzed down one side as a result. The foreign doctor opens his head, takes out a little piece of metal, and the man begins at once to walk and talk. Or it might be in the case of a woman who was blind from a cataract and received sight.

The Slow One.

"Would you," he said after they had been sitting in the dark for a long time, "be angry with me if I were to kiss you?"

She was silent for a moment. Then in tones the meaning of which was not to be mistaken he replied:

"Why do you suppose I turned down the light an hour and a half ago?"

And yet he wondered, poor fool, how other young men who had started far in the rear were able to pass him in the race of life.

67,812,000 Inhabitants in Germany. Germany has now 67,812,000 inhabitants, according to the imperial statistical office. The gain since the same date in 1913 is 831,000. As the gain between 1912 and 1913 was 835,000, the rate of increase is being approximately maintained. Since 1904 the population has risen by 8,337,000, or 14 per cent in ten years. During the preceding decade the rate of increase was 15.9 per cent.

Fifty Years For Fifty Cent Theft. Fifty years for stealing 50 cents is the sentence which a Hale county (Ala.) jury imposed on Frank Williams, a negro, who in 1894 robbed another negro of half a dollar. After serving more than twenty years of the fifty year sentence Williams has been paroled by Governor O'Neal.

The Mother of a Hero

A crash, a flash, a momentary triumph. The blaze of sun from out a sky of blue. And some one lies a heap of huddled garments. With heart now still that once sang brave and true. A blur of smoke against the mountains raged. A buzzard winging slowly through the sky. And miles away a little mother waiting And praying to the gracious God on high.

A moan, a stream of lifeblood ebbing swiftly. A pair of eyes that close in endless sleep. A bullet, sharp and sudden in its coming. That leaves a wound so horrible and deep. A paper, printed large in glowing headlines. That says: "He left a mother next of kin."

A country's loud approval of a hero And one small woman sobbing through the din.

A fear, a tear, a pair of hands clasped tightly. A man in spirit, though a boy in years; A soldier's spot in battle, fighting bravely— A little mother smiling through the tears!

MICHIGAN MAY MAKE LAWS AGAINST JAPS.

Like California, Many In That State Oppose Colonization Plan.

Michigan stands with California on the question of receiving the Japanese as settlers if the statements of state officers and county officers express the views of the people. Former Governor Chase S. Osborn announced his candidacy this year for the Republican nomination for governor, saying:

"I know nothing as to the authenticity of the report of a Japanese colonization scheme for Michigan, but such a plan would be neither practical nor desirable."

Secretary of State Martindale, also a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, expressed similar views, adding that he favors exclusion legislation. State Land Commissioner Carlton declared the state should take steps to prevent any move of the sort reported. Governor Ferris has refused to comment on the proposition pending such time as he has no official knowledge of a movement of Japanese toward Michigan agricultural lands.

Labor leaders are planning to take action, and several have declared that, whether this colonization scheme goes through or not, there will be bills presented at the next session of the legislature to prevent Japanese from owning land in Michigan.

TO NOMINATE 200 CADETS.

Candidates For West Point to Be Named Next Year by Congressmen.

Upward of 200 cadetships at the West Point Military academy are to be filled in 1915. In response to numerous inquiries on the subject, the war department announced the list of cadetships for which candidates are to be appointed to the academy on the nominations of senators and representatives in congress. The entrance examination will be held the last Tuesday in March of next year.

Under the law each person nominated for appointment as a cadet has to be an actual resident of the congressional district or territory from which appointed, or, if appointed from a state at large, an actual resident of that state.

Appointments are to be made by senators from twenty-seven states and by representatives from thirty-one states. The following is a list of the states, with the names of the senators who are to make appointments:

Arizona, Ashurst and Smith; Arkansas, Clarke; California, Works; Colorado, Shafroth; Connecticut, McLean and Brannan; Florida, Bryan; Idaho, Borch; Illinois, Lewis; Indiana, Shively; Kentucky, Camden; Louisiana, Ransdell; Michigan, Smith and Townsend; Minnesota, Clapp; Missouri, Reed; Nebraska, Norris; Nevada, Newlands; New Mexico, Catron; New York, O'Gorman; North Carolina, Overman; Ohio, Pomerene; Oregon, Lane; Pennsylvania, Oliver; Tennessee, Shields; Utah, Smart; Washington, Jones and Poinexter; Wisconsin, La Follette; and Wyoming, Clark.

Origin of the Word Academy.

Academy was a wealthy Greek of Athens who lived several hundred years before the birth of Christ. Among his possessions was a beautiful grove, where young men used to congregate and listen to the teachings of wise men, such as Plato and Socrates. This developed into the school of modern times, and these modern schools take their name "academy" from the old Greek Academy. The real meaning of the word academy is a school for boys.

INDIAN BORN IN GERMANY.

Full Blooded Sioux Has Our Consul at Barmen as Her Godfather.

The first full blooded American Indian ever born in Germany recently saw the light of day near Dortmund, Westphalia. The child's father is a Sioux Indian from the Pine Ridge agency, William Bear Shield, and the mother is Mary Bear Shield. The father is now in America, but the mother is a member of an Indian troupe touring Germany with a circus.

The birth took place in a typical American prairie wagon while the troupe was en route from Dortmund to Recklinghausen.

The mother was anxious that her little papoose, who is a girl, should be duly registered in the German records as an American citizen and a Christian. To that end she sought the nearest American consul, George Eugene Eager, who represents the United States at Barmen.

The baby was born on June 29, but as the Fourth of July was approaching the baptism was deferred until then. Mr. Eager stood as godfather for the child, who was christened Maria Consula.

CUT THE ARMY RED TAPE.

Willich Knew His Men and They Knew Him and That Settled It.

There are times when the so called "red tape" of the army gives way under the stress of circumstances. At the battle of Chickamauga General Willich, who was commanding a brigade, incurred the displeasure of General Rosecrans, the commanding general, by some slight omission. General Willich was sent for and informed by the general commanding that he must consider himself under arrest for the present.

"You may leave your sword here," added Rosecrans, "until your case is tried."

"Yes, general, I will consider myself under arrest," was the reply, "and just as soon as this engagement is over, I'll come and fix up the matter."

"But, sir," said the astounded Rosecrans, "I want you to consider your self under arrest now."

"Of course I do," responded Willich promptly, "and just as soon as this fight is over I'll see that the matter is arranged."

"But, sir," expostulated the commanding general, "I can't let you go into this fight. You are under arrest. I will assign an officer to your brigade."

"You send an officer to command my boys!" cried Willich indignantly. "He can't command them! They don't know him! They know me—I can teach them. None of my boys would know how to fight or what to do unless I was with them. My boys belong to me. Yes, me, General Willich! I command the brigade, and I must fight the brigade!"

General Rosecrans gave it up. General Willich was requested to return "and fight his boys," which he did most successfully. And that was the end of the matter.—Washington Star.

THE DISPATCH WANT ADS PAY DON'T take a big chew. Just a nibble will satisfy you, because "Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew. Taste it, smell it—see how different it is from ordinary tobacco. By the time you've used up half a pouch you'll be telling your friends about it, same as the men you hear talking about it now. Pure, rich, sappy tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough. Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut." If your dealer does not sell it, send us 10c. in stamps for a pouch of "Right-Cut" Chewing Tobacco. DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Chester D. Tripp, of Crosby, Gives Tonnage of Irons and Rogers, Brown Properties

SHIP 450,000 TONS THIS YEAR

The Lenox Development Co. on the South Range—Soo and N. P. Connect at Cedar Lake

Chester D. Tripp, president of the Rogers, Brown Ore Co., as a rule, is a very taciturn person and very seldom grants an interview. However, when Mr. Tripp has something to say it means something. Crosby and Iron-ton and the entire north range were started into sudden activity when the pumps at the Armour No. 1 mine, long silent, were having new packing put in them. It could mean nothing else than the re-opening of this mine, said everybody.

"Cleaning old pumps on the surface," said President Tripp, "means nothing. The mine will not be opened up." The Armour No. 2 mine is shipping from the shaft. The steam shovel stopped work at the stockpile and will probably resume next week. The Kennedy is shipping from its shaft and little has been done with the stockpile. When asked about this year's production of the Rogers, Brown Ore Co. properties on the Cuyuna range, Mr. Tripp said:

"The Irons and Rogers, Brown Ore Co. 200,000 tons, making a total of 450,000 tons for the year."

The Duluth-Brainerd mine north of Iron-ton and near Iron Mountain will be in ore in a few days. Eighteen miners are employed there. Isaac Williams and Gust Hill are the shift bosses. The Seaford Exploration Co. is drilling in section 20, township 47, range 28, north of the town of Cuyuna. John T. The company is capitalized at $50,000 and the highest amount of indebtedness allowed is $10,000. The principal place of business is Iron-ton. The directors include the names mentioned and W. W. Fegan and E. A. Hershberger of Grand Forks, N. D. The first officers elected are President W. W. Fegan, vice president Ben P. Brown, secretary E. A. Lamb and treasurer M. A. Keeley.

The Iron Trade Review, in speaking of business conditions, says: "The last half of the year 1912 was one of great prosperity and some fortunate men report that they see indications of a good buying movement in pig iron, which they believe will well under way by September 1 and possibly equal the movement of the last half of 1912. During the past week, there has been increased activity in the Pittsburgh market and two large lots, one of 20,000 tons and another of 10,000 tons, have been sold. Tonnages of good size are pending in the east, but sales are not numerous. The General Electric Co. has purchased 10,000 tons of foundry iron and inquiries are pending for about 50,000 tons of iron for export."

Among manufacturers of cars and other kinds of railroad equipment, there is a distinctly more optimistic sentiment and it is believed that liberal buying by the railroads will soon be inaugurated. Positive information is to the effect that inquiries for about 10,000 cars will soon appear in the eastern district.

The Pennsylvania railroad has distributed the remaining 100,000 tons of its 1914 rail order, 44,000 tons going to the Steel Corporation, 22,000 tons each to the Pennsylvania and Cambria steel companies and 6,000 tons each to the Bethlehem and Lackawanna steel companies. The Seaboard Air Line has ordered 6,000 tons of spikes and much more spike business is still pending. Two leading eastern agricultural implement makers have contracted for from 15,000 to 20,000 tons of steel bars, but many of these manufacturers in the central and west have not yet been covered. Mills are firmly resisting efforts of buyers to contract at less than 1.15c, Pittsburgh, which is the prevailing price up to January 1, while 1.20c is the usual quotation for delivery after that date."

PLAN TRAINING OF CHINESE DOCTORS

Country Still in Dark Ages of Medicine.

MUST COMBAT OPPOSITION.

Territory So Vast Rockefeller Commission Can't Supply Enough Foreign Medicines—Natives Hazy of Innovations—Chinese Apparently Cannot Even Set a Bone.

The Rockefeller commission, which is in Peking investigating China's needs in a medical and surgical way, already has found that a most important point is this: The Chinese must be taught to doctor themselves along modern lines and not rely, except for the present, upon the foreign medical men.

The country is so vast and the need of the medical men so extensive that all the doctors and surgeons in America could be utilized in China. Such a great invasion or even enough to make any wide impression is impracticable. The solution must be the training of the Chinese doctors, says a Peking dispatch to the New York Times. At present there are only a few scores of them trained along modern lines, and these have difficulty in making a living. The Chinaman is suspicious of the second-hand training of the modernized Chinese doctor, and if he is moved to resort to foreign treatment he prefers to go direct to the foreign doctor.

The commission, which is represented in Peking by Dr. Harry Pratt Judson, president of Chicago university, and Dr. Francis W. Peabody of Boston, has not gone far enough to commit itself to any definite plan, but its report undoubtedly will be largely concerned with the problem of making the foreign trained native doctor respected in China.

Government Aids. The United States department of state has temporarily detached Roger S. Greene from his consular post at Hankow to aid the commission as an interpreter and guide in its tour of investigation, and the Chinese government, both central and local, has furthered rather than impeded the work of the commission.

In the medical schools the commission has found various men at work trying to coin medical characters and combinations of characters or expressions in Chinese. It was only three years ago that the first class of Chinese educated in China took their medical degrees from the Union college (where American and British missionary doctors work together) in Peking. Last year the first class, a small number, of women doctors was graduated. Because of prejudices against the treatment of women by men, women doctors will have a valuable place in medical work in China.

While the class of Chinese who prefer the old style Chinese doctors is still in the majority, the foreign doctors have more than they can do. Chinese medicine is a poor thing. The Chinese have had for centuries remedies for certain well known diseases—remedies which are often very effective. But they have never apparently studied anatomy and know little or nothing of the reasons for actions and counteractions. Much, if not most, of their work is quackery. They have very little knowledge of surgery.

Cannot Set a Bone. As a rule, the Chinese doctor cannot set a bone. Men whose broken limbs could be stuck together by an ordinary man in Europe or America become permanent cripples in China. Such are to be seen even on the streets of Canton, Shanghai and Peking, where the services of the foreign doctors are always available. They are men who have gone to their own instead of foreign doctors and probably have received plasters or even medicine to take internally for their broken bones.

Some of the tales that go through the country about the missionary doctors are to these people like stories of the Bible. A man learns of a surprising cure, which seems to him miraculous. A friend has been shot by brigands or by marauding troops of the government and is paralyzed down one side as a result. The foreign doctor opens his head, takes out a little piece of metal, and the man begins at once to walk and talk. Or it might be in the case of a woman who was blind from a cataract and received sight.

The Slow One. "Would you," he said after they had been sitting in the dark for a long time, "be angry with me if I were to kiss you?" She was silent for a moment. Then in tones the meaning of which was not to be mistaken she replied: "Why do you suppose I turned down the light an hour and a half ago?"

And yet he wondered, poor fool, how other young men who had started far in the rear were able to pass him in the race of life.

67,812,000 Inhabitants in Germany. Germany has now 67,812,000 inhabitants, according to the Imperial statistical office. The gain since the same date in 1913 is 831,000. As the gain between 1912 and 1913 was 835,000, the rate of increase is being approximately maintained. Since 1904 the population has risen by 8,337,000, or 14 per cent in ten years. During the preceding decade the rate of increase was 15.9 per cent.

Fifty Years For Fifty Cent Theft. Fifty years for stealing 50 cents is the sentence which a Hale county (Ala.) jury imposed on Frank Williams, a negro, who in 1894 robbed another negro of half a dollar. After serving more than twenty years of the fifty year sentence Williams has been paroled by Governor O'Neal.

The Mother of a Hero

A crash, a flash, a momentary triumph. The blaze of sun from out a sky of blue. And some one lies a heap of huddled garments. With heart now still that once sang brave and true. A blur of smoke against the mountains raged. A buzzard winging slowly through the sky. And miles away a little mother waiting. And praying to the gracious God on high.

A moan, a stream of lifeblood ebbing swiftly. A pair of eyes that close in endless sleep. A bullet, sharp and sudden in its coming. That leaves a wound so horrible and deep. A paper, printed large in glowing headlines. That says, "He left a mother next of kin." A country's lead approval of a hero. And one small woman sobbing through the din.

A fear, a tear, a pair of hands clasped tightly. A mind that sees a sturdy little boy. A tiny baby face with roguish dimples. A sound of laughter filled with childish joy. A nation's hero, dying first, with glory! A man in spirit, though a boy in years! A soldier's soul in battle, fighting bravely—A little mother smiling through the tears! —Margaret E. Sangster, Jr., in New York Times

MICHIGAN MAY MAKE LAWS AGAINST JAPS.

Like California, Many In That State Oppose Colonization Plan.

Michigan stands with California on the question of receiving the Japanese as settlers if the statements of state officers and county officers express the views of the people. Former Governor Chase S. Osborn announced his candidacy this year for the Republican nomination for governor, saying:

"I know nothing as to the authenticity of the report of a Japanese colonization scheme for Michigan, but such a plan would be neither practical nor desirable."

Secretary of State Martindale, also a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, expressed similar views, adding that he favors exclusion legislation.

State Land Commissioner Carter declared the state should take steps to prevent any move of the sort reported. Governor Ferris has refused to comment on the proposition pending such time as he has no official knowledge of a movement of Japanese toward Michigan agricultural lands.

Labor leaders are planning to take action, and several have declared that, whether this colonization scheme goes through or not, there will be bills presented at the next session of the legislature to prevent Japanese from owning land in Michigan.

TO NOMINATE 200 CADETS.

Candidates For West Point to Be Named Next Year by Congressmen.

Upward of 200 cadetships at the West Point Military academy are to be filled in 1915. In response to numerous inquiries on the subject, the war department announced the list of cadetships for which candidates are to be appointed to the academy on the nominations of senators and representatives in congress. The entrance examination will be held the last Tuesday in March of next year.

Under the law each person nominated for appointment as a cadet has to be an actual resident of the congressional district or territory from which appointed, or, if appointed from a state at large, an actual resident of that state.

Appointments are to be made by senators from twenty-seven states and by representatives from thirty-one states. The following is a list of the states, with the names of the senators who are to make appointments:

Arizona, Ashurst and Smith; Arkansas, Clarke; California, Works; Colorado, Shafroth; Connecticut, McLean and Branage; Florida, Bryan; Idaho, Borah; Illinois, Lewis; Indiana, Shively; Kentucky, Camden; Louisiana, Ransdell; Michigan, Smith and Townsend; Minnesota, Clapp; Missouri, Reed; Nebraska, Norris; Nevada, Newlands; New Mexico, Carrion; New York, O'Gorman; North Carolina, Overman; Ohio, Pomeroy; Oregon, Lane; Pennsylvania, Oliver; Tennessee, Shields; Utah, Smart; Washington, Jones and Poindexter; Wisconsin, La Follette; and Wyoming, Clark.

Origin of the Word Academy. Academus was a wealthy Greek of Athens who lived several hundred years before the birth of Christ. Among his possessions was a beautiful grove, where young men used to congregate and listen to the teachings of wise men, such as Plato and Socrates. This developed into the school of modern times, and these modern schools take their name "academy" from the old Greek Academus. The real meaning of the word academy is a school for boys.

INDIAN BORN IN GERMANY.

Full Blooded Sioux Has Our Consul at Barmen as Her Godfather.

The first full blooded American Indian ever born in Germany recently saw the light of day near Dortmund, Westphalia. The child's father is a Sioux Indian from the Pine Ridge agency, William Bear Shield, and the mother is Mary Bear Shield. The father is now in America, but the mother is a member of an Indian troupe touring Germany with a circus.

The birth took place in a typical American prairie wagon while the troupe was en route from Dortmund to Recklinghausen. The mother was anxious that her little papoose, who is a girl, should be duly registered in the German records as an American citizen and a Christian. To that end she sought the nearest American consul, George Eugene Eager, who represents the United States at Barmen.

The baby was born on June 29, but the Fourth of July was approaching the baptism was deferred until then. Mr. Eager stood as godfather for the child, who was christened Mary Con sul.

CUT THE ARMY RED TAPE.

Willch Knew His Men and They Knew Him and That Settled It.

There are times when the so called "red tape" of the army gives way under the stress of circumstances. At the battle of Chickamauga General Willch, who was commanding a brigade, incurred the displeasure of General Rosecrans, the commanding general, by some slight omission. General Willch was sent for and informed by the general commanding that he must consider himself under arrest for the present.

"You may leave your sword here," added Rosecrans, "until your case is tried."

"Yes, general, I will consider myself under arrest," was the reply, "and just as soon as this engagement is over, I'll come and fix up the matter."

"But, sir," said the astounded Rosecrans, "I want you to consider yourself under arrest now."

"Of course I do," responded Willch promptly, "and just as soon as this fight is over I'll see that the matter is arranged."

"But, sir," expostulated the commanding general, "I can't let you go into this fight. You are under arrest. I will assign an officer to your brigade."

"You send an officer to command my boys!" cried Willch indignantly. "He can't command them! They don't know him! They know me—I can teach them. None of my boys would know how to fight or what to do unless I was with them. My boys belong to me. Yes, me, General Willch! I command the brigade, and I must fight the brigade!"

General Rosecrans gave it up. General Willch was requested to return "and fight his boys," which he did most successfully. And that was the end of the matter.—Washington Star.

CARNIVAL IS ENJOYED BY MANY

Motorcade with its Motorcycle Riders Draws a Large Crowd Opening Night

GRAND PARADE OF COMPANY

Baby Camel is a Lovely—Garden of Allah Opens Tonight—The Living Mermaid

The World at Home with its many attractions opened Carnival Week in Brainerd Monday with a big parade in the evening. Led by the concert band came the representatives of the varied shows and local auto owners donated their services in conveying many of the beauties of the Garden of Allah. This show, by the way, opens tonight. There was nothing doing last night because the electric light service, unused to the extra heavy load, burned out four fuses. A lot of necessary repair work had to be done to the canvas of the Garden of Allah.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon and 7:30 this evening the concert band directed by Mr. Eslick will give concerts. At 9 in the evening the high dive of a horse and girl will be given near the court house on Fourth street.

People crowded Main street. All attractions were well patronized, as a rule. Something new in Brainerd was the motordrome where motorcycle riders raced. It is something of a thriller. The track is in the shape of a huge tub, narrow at the bottom and flaring at the top, sloping at an angle of about 80 degrees. The extreme height is about 18 feet and there are 44 laps to the mile. The riders are Reckless Russell, Robert Gold and O. K. Hagar. The daring motorcycle riders ascend the track until the machines and men assume a horizontal position, which is maintained by the speed of their motorcycles, just as a bucket of water can be swung around without the contents spilling. Gold makes the circuit at the very top 18 feet above the base. He does a lot of trick riding too, riding with hands behind him, riding with both hands and feet clear of the machine and ending with his hazardous dive from the top almost precipitously down. Gold has been riding in Cuba all winter and will go to Porto Rico next. James Michelstetter built the motordrome.

Other feats performed were the zig zag, the snake ride, dip of death, the Broadway whirl.

MaBelle is a fat lady weighing 600 pounds. Her companions are Charles Bradley, height 8 feet, and Prince Otto, of Chicago, aged 25 and the size of a big doll. Bradley comes from Wichita, Kansas. Ma Belle has a twin sister who was with Barnum & Bailey when the circus visited Brainerd last year.

California Frank's Wild West show was visited by many and offered many interesting sights. There was waltzing, two-stepping, and cake-walking by the horses. A trick donkey was a feature. With the Indians and cowboy and cowgirl feats of horsemanship, an entertaining program was offered.

A tent near the Panama canal exhibit has a host of wonders. There is the snake charmer, Miss Russell, surrounded by a bunch of coach whips Texas blue bull snakes, black diamond rattlers, a small python and a blow adder.

Miss Ethyl Dawne June is the mermaid who swims in a tank and does wonderful feats there. She can stay under water three and a quarter minutes and that is some record for a woman to hold her breath. She eats, drinks, sleeps, writes under water. She is the only person who swam from Coronado Beach to San Diego. She also swam the Golden Gate, with hands and feet tied. She swam from Edgewater Park, Cleveland, Ohio to the Six mile crib in two hours and thirty-one minutes. Her measurements show her to be a very shapely young woman. Weighing 130 pounds, she is 5 feet one inch high, has a reach of 28 inches, bust 38, waist 25, thigh 24, calf 13, forearm 8 1/2, wrist 5 1/2, biceps 11 and ankle 8 1/2 inches.

Near her a man poked pins in his body and another walked barefooted over knives, saws and chipped glass. These are only three out of the 19 big attractions shown. Go every night and see them all.

Miss Ethel Brandt	125

The diamond ring was selected at Houghton's Jewelry store this morning and is now on display in their show window.

The contest was continued until Thursday 10:30 P. M., so as to give all candidates a better chance. A voting box has been established on Carnival grounds opposite the Ferris wheel.

FINEST DELIVERY WAGON

Installed by the National Biscuit Co., To Deliver Uneeda Biscuits To the Trade

When you ask to see the finest delivery wagon in Brainerd today, people will point out to you the wagon of the National Biscuit Co., of New York, which delivers the celebrated Uneeda biscuits to the trade.

Walter F. Kunitz, salesman for the company, whose territory includes Brainerd, Morrison, Todd, Beltrami, Hubbard and Crow Wing counties, now has the wagon deliver to Brainerd retailers the product as it arrives on daily trains and thus creates quite a saving in drayage charges formerly paid out by the Brainerd merchants.

Last Thursday the wagon delivered three loads of crackers and cookies to various Brainerd stores. Painted in cream color with red lettering on the sides, a picture of the Uneeda biscuit and Inner Seal trademarks are prominently displayed on the wagon.

Mr. Kunitz is one of the hustling members of the United Commercial Travelers Council No. 545, of Brainerd, and brother drummers are pleased to see the enterprise manifested by the house which Kunitz represents in this territory.

ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS STORY

Comments on the Happenings in a Rarely Facetious Vein, Played up on First Page

The St. Paul Pioneer Press editor, in a facetious mood, featured two bee stories on the front page Monday, and the correspondents in the case were surprised to see the hit they made with the genial P. P. man. Like all faithful press agents of their respective towns, any mention, especially if purveyed and headlined in the gentle manner of the St. Paul editor means advertising for Brainerd and Nodaway. And on the front page too, the dream goal of every country correspondent, the Excelsior in the heights of printers ink. But enough, here's the St. Paul Pioneer Press story:

"Business was dull last night in Brainerd, Minn., and Nodaway, Iowa. Correspondents of the Pioneer Press could find no news to file at the telegraph office. Suddenly each got something in his bonnet. Naturally, 'twas a bee, many of them, in fact.

Here's what the Brainerd man wired as his one best bet on a dull Sunday night:

"With the thermometer steadily rising in Brainerd today, and driven out of the nearby woods by the intense heat, a swarm of wild bees hived in a recess over the door of a bank building."

The Nodaway correspondent is no amateur either:

"Bees lodged between the roof and the ceiling of the Methodist church in such large numbers today that their buzzing interfered with the services and honey dripped through onto women's hats and dresses. The pastor was unable to find any one brave enough to undertake the rout of the invaders."

And at the finish the Pioneer Press typesetter unconsciously entered into the humor of the occasion by spelling "route" with an "e" and making it "route."

Strengthens Weak and Tired Women

"I was under a great strain nursing a relative through three months' sickness," writes Mrs. J. C. Van De Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., and Electric Bitters kept me from breaking down. I will never be without it." Do you feel tired and worn out? No appetite and food won't digest? It isn't the spring weather. You need Electric Bitters. Start a month's treatment today; nothing better for stomach, liver and kidneys. The great spring tonic. Relief or money back. 50c and $1.00, at your druggist. H. P. Dunn, druggist.—Advt. tts

Proceedings in Bankruptcy

In the district court of the United States for the District of Minnesota, Fifth Division.

In the matter of Peter Sands, bankrupt, in bankruptcy.

To the Honorable Page Morris, Judge of the District Court of the United States for the District of Minnesota; in Peter Sands, of the City of Brainerd, in the County of Crow Wing and State of Minnesota, in said district, respectfully represents that on the 27th day of January, 1914, last past, he was duly adjudged bankrupt under the acts of Congress relating to bankruptcy; that he has duly surrendered all his property and rights of property, and has fully complied with all the requirements of said acts and of the orders of the court touching his bankruptcy.

Wherefore, he prays that he may be decreed by the court to have a full discharge from all his debts provable against his estate under said bankruptcy acts, except such debts as are excepted by law from such discharge.

Dated this 7th day of July, A. D. 1914.

PETER SANDS, Bankrupt.

United States District Court, District of Minnesota, Fifth Division—ss.

On the 8th day of July, A. D. 1914, on reading the foregoing petition it is Ordered by the court that a hearing be had upon the same on the 13th day of August, A. D. 1914, before said court at Duluth, in said district at ten o'clock in the forenoon; and that notice thereof be published in the Brainerd Dispatch, a newspaper printed in said district, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at the said time and place and be heard in support of the petition or in opposition to it, and that the clerk shall send by mail to all known creditors copies of said petition and this order addressed to them at their places of residence, as stated.

Witness the Honorable Page Morris, Judge of the said court, and the seal thereof, at Duluth, in said district, on the 9th day of July, A. D. 1914.

Wouldn't Hang the Jury.

An old negro named Ephraim, having been sworn on the jury in a murder trial, for some time resisted a verdict of guilty for no other apparent reason than his strong aversion to capital punishment in general. Finally the foreman explained to him that it was a question either of hanging the prisoner or hanging the jury and that it all depended on him. "Fo' gracious, sah," replied Uncle Ephraim, "on dem reasonments de pris'n'r am sho' guilty."

TO HOLD UNION SERVICES JULY 19

Congregations of Norwegian-Danish Lutheran Churches under Rev. C. Hougstad

TO MEET AT PEQUOT SUNDAY

Special Train Leaves Brainerd at 9 in the Morning, Returning at 7:30 P. M.

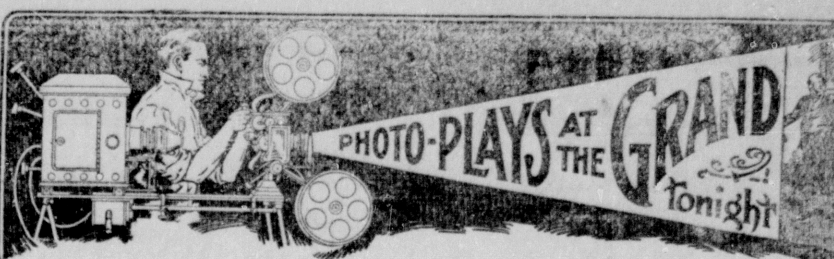

Union church services of the churches served by Rev. C. Hougstad will be held at Pequot at the county fair grounds on Sunday, July 19. A special train has been chartered on the Minnesota & International railway which will leave Brainerd at 9 in the morning, returning from Pequot at 7:30 P. M., and stopping enroute at Merrifield, Hubert and Nisswa.

Regular church services will be held at 11 in the morning. Rev. Hougstad will preach. There will be songs by the choir of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church of Brainerd. In the afternoon at 2 o'clock there may be addresses by Rev. Bramscher of Pequot and Rev. Joesting of Brainerd. The choir has a special musical program. The balance of the time will be spent in visiting the sister congregations of Pequot and Pine River.

Rev. Hougstad serves the church at Brainerd of 30 or more families, the Vaale church in Long Lake township of 12 families, the Pequot church of 30 to 40 families, the Pine River church of 12 families, and the Motley church of 12 families. This is the first time in the history of the pastorate that union services were planned to be held. The idea originated with the men's society of the Brainerd church.

CARNIVAL IS ENJOYED BY MANY

Motordrome with its Motorcycle Riders Draws a Large Crowd Opening Night

GRAND PARADE OF COMPANY

Baby Camel is a Novelty—Garden of Allah Opens Tonight—The Living Mermaid

The World at Home with its many attractions opened Carnival Week in Brainerd Monday with a big parade in the evening. Led by the concert band came the representatives of the varied shows and local auto owners donated their services in conveying many of the beauties of the Garden of Allah. This show, by the way, opens tonight. There was nothing doing last night because the electric light service, unused to the extra heavy load, burned out four fuses. A lot of necessary repair work had to be done to the canvas of the Garden of Allah.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon and 7:30 this evening the concert band directed by Mr. Eslick will give concerts. At 9 in the evening the high dive of a horse and girl will be given near the court house on Fourth street.

People crowded Main street. All attractions were well patronized, as a rule. Something new in Brainerd was the motordrome where motorcycle riders raced. It is something of a thriller. The track is in the shape of a huge tub, narrow at the bottom and flaring at the top, sloping at an angle of about 80 degrees. The extreme height is about 18 feet and there are 44 laps to the mile. The riders are Reckless Russell, Robert Gold and O. K. Hagar. The daring motorcycle riders ascend the track until the machines and men assume a horizontal position, which is maintained by the speed of their motorcycles, just as a bucket of water can be swung around without the contents spilling. Gold makes the circuit at the very top 18 feet above the base. He does a lot of trick riding too, riding with hands behind him, riding with both hands and feet clear of the machine and ending with his hazardous dive from the top almost precipitously down. Gold has been riding in Cuba all winter and will go to Porto Rico next. James Michelstetter built the motordrome.

Other feats performed were the zig zag, the snake ride, dip of death, the Broadway whirl.

MaBelle is a fat lady weighing 600 pounds. Her companions are Charles Bradley, height 8 feet, and Prince Otto, of Chicago, aged 25 and the size of a big doll. Bradley comes from Wichita, Kansas. Ma Belle has a twin sister who was with Barnum & Bailey when the circus visited Brainerd last year.

California Frank's Wild West show was visited by many and offered many interesting sights. There was waltzing, two-stepping, and cake-walking by the horses. A trick donkey was a feature. With the Indians and cowboy and cowgirl feats of horsemanship, an entertaining program was offered.

A tent near the Panama canal exhibit has a host of wonders. There is the snake charmer, Miss Russell, surrounded by a bunch of coach whips Texas blue bull snakes, black diamond rattlers, a small python and a blow adder.

Miss Ethyl Dawne June is the mermaid who swims in a tank and does wonderful feats there. She can stay under water three and a quarter minutes and that is some record for a woman to hold her breath. She eats, drinks, sleeps, writes under water. She is the only person who swam from Coronado Beach to San Diego. She also swam the Golden Gate, with hands and feet tied. She swam from Edgewater Park, Cleveland, Ohio to the Six mile crib in two hours and thirty-one minutes. Her measurements show her to be a very shapely young woman. Weighing 130 pounds, she is 5 feet one inch high, has a reach of 28 inches, chest 38, waist 25, thigh 24, calf 13, forearm 8 1/2, wrist 5 1/2, biceps 11 and ankle 8 1/2 inches.

Near her a man poked pins in his body and another walked barefooted over knives, saws and chipped glass.

These are only three out of the 19 big attractions shown. Go every night and see them all.

POPULAR LADY CONTEST

How the Leaders Stand In Voting Contest for Big Summer Festival Contest

Following you will find the names and number of votes that the leading candidates for the big summer festival contest have to date. A list will appear daily in this paper of the names of the fifteen ladies having the greatest number of votes. It is impossible to publish all names on account of lack of space, however it is not necessary to vote for the ladies names that appear daily, but you may vote for whoever you wish.

Voting boxes have been established at Michaels, Dunn's Drug store, Ramsford Hotel, Olympia Candy Kitchen, H. W. Linnemann's, Campbells, Cooks and Park Theatre. Votes are one cent each, envelopes will be found at all voting boxes. Deposit your money for votes in envelope and drop in box. Votes are counted daily. Contest closes Thursday, July 16th at 10:30 P. M. Diamond ring will be given to the lady elected, who will be crowned Queen of the Festival. Your vote helps the Park Association.

How the 15 leaders stand in Summer Festival contest:

Miss Hannah Sather	715
Miss S. Hendrickson	447
Miss Grace Carlson	434
Miss Madge Murphy	388
Miss Leona DeRoche	350
Miss Frances Quinn	343
Miss Kitty Johnson	342
Miss Edna Mahlum	336
Miss Esther Belmont	325
Miss Florence Warner	313
Miss DeEtta Rose	293
Miss Blanche Millerstadt	167
Miss Selma Anderson	160
Miss Ethel Brandt	125

The diamond ring was selected at Houghton's Jewelry store this morning and is now on display in their show window.

The contest was continued until Thursday 10:30 P. M., so as to give all candidates a better chance. A voting box has been established on Carnival grounds opposite the Ferris wheel.

FINEST DELIVERY WAGON

Installed by the National Biscuit Co., To Deliver Uneeda Biscuits To the Trade

When you ask to see the finest delivery wagon in Brainerd today, people will point out to you the wagon of the National Biscuit Co., of New York, which delivers the celebrated Uneeda biscuits to the trade.

Walter F. Kunitz, salesman for the company, whose territory includes Brainerd, Morrison, Todd, Beltrami, Hubbard and Crow Wing counties, now has the wagon deliver to Brainerd retailers the product as it arrives on daily trains and thus creates quite a saving in drayage charges formerly paid out by the Brainerd merchants.

Last Thursday the wagon delivered three loads of crackers and cookies to various Brainerd stores. Painted in cream color with red lettering on the sides, a picture of the Uneeda biscuit and Inner Seal trademarks are prominently displayed on the wagon.

Mr. Kunitz is one of the hustling members of the United Commercial Travelers Council No. 545, of Brainerd, and brother drummers are pleased to see the enterprise manifested by the house which Kunitz represents in this territory.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
